COUPLE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Opens Fire On An Officer

BELIEVE ONE SLAIN; OTHER KILLED SELF

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Whitney Are Victims of Double Tragedy---Domestic Trouble Thought Motive.

Shot to death and lying side by side on the floor of their living quarters in the back room of their little grocery store at 436 South Ninth street, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Whitney were found Thursday morning by officers shortly before 8 o'clock. Indications pointed either to a suicide pact or that one had probably shot the other and then committed suicide.

The theory that they might have been murdered by a third party was given no credence as the doors of the store were found locked by officials and about $200 in cash was undisturbed.

Whitney was shot once just back of the ear on the right side of the head, while Mrs. Whitney was shot twice, directly in the back of the head. The fact that there were two wounds in Mrs. Whitney's head gives strength to the theory that she was shot by her husband, officials believe

No Evidence of Struggle.

The room gave no evidence of a struggle, as the bed clothing had not been deranged and Whitney's clothes were placed in a neat pile. Other than the wounds no marks of violence were found on the bodies.

Financial worries did not enter into the case as checks or cash for more than $1690 were found in the living quarters and two bank books indicating that both parties had money in the bank. Whitney also owned a lot and two houses at Twenty-fifth and D streets valued at about $8,000.

D. M. Whitney, 424 South Ninth street, nephew of the dead man, stated that there had been some domestic trouble and that his uncle told him about a week before the tragedy that "his wife was on a rampage."

Mrs L. G. Pierson, 432 South Ninth street, said that she had found Mrs. Whitney in tears recently and that when she questioned her Mrs. Whitney replied that "her husband didn't treat her right." She gave no indication as to what the trouble was, Mrs. Pierson said.

Neighbors Hear Screams.

Two women heard a scream shortly before the sound of two shots. Mrs. Juanita Hemenway, 908½ K street, stated that some time between 10 and 11 o'clock she heard a long scream almost instantly followed by three shots

Mrs. Blanche McCarthy, who lives on the third floor directly above the store, was in bed reading and heard a scream or moan and instantly thereafter two sharp explosions which she thinks were probably the shots. She glanced at the clock and saw that it was exactly 10.30.

When the bodies were found Mrs. Whitney's body was lying on the floor, face down. She was about five feet from the bed.

Whitney's body was lying just beside the bed, face up It is thought that he was sitting on the bed when shot and then slipped to the floor. Bloodstains on the bedclothes give this theory weight.

The gun was found almost beneath Mrs. Whitney's head. Four cartridges were in the gun and two empty shells on the floor. Officers resumed the search for the other shells Thursday afternoon.

No note or other indication as to the cause of the tragedy was found.

E. M. Bair, driver for the Griffis Bakery company, who turned in the call to police, stated that the night before when he had called the Whitneys gave no order for bread, contrary to the usual custom.

W. G. Bustard, 915 L Street, was in the store Wednesday evening and said that Mrs. Whitney appeared depressed and refused to wait on him Mr. Whitney finally sold him the goods.

The gun was sold to the Whitneys by T. C. Waugh, 123 North Twenty-fifth, salesman for the H. P. Lau company. He first spoke to Mrs Whitney about the gun and later Mr Whitney asked him about it. Whitney said that it might be needed for burglars The gun was an automatic pistol .32 caliber It was sold for $8.25, the wholesale cost.

Last Monday when Waugh made his regular call, the Whitneys proposed to sell Mrs. Whitney's two diamond rings to him for $125, he said.

Bought Store Two Months Ago.

The store was sold by W. P Tidrow, 2026 S street, to Whitney about two months ago. Previous to this Whitney had been farming and came to Lincoln from Belleville, Kas., last spring He had lived in or near Belleville all his life, his nephew said Tidrow stated that Whitney had paid cash when he purchased the store.

Mrs Whitney was Whitney's third wife, the other two having died. They had been married about six years.

Whitney has two sons, Claude Whitney, a Burlington employe living at Falls City and Lloyd R. Whitney, a farmer of Unadilla. Both arrived in Lincoln Thursday. A brother, L. E Whitney, lives at Malvern, Iowa, and other relatives live at Emetsburg, Iowa.

The room in which the bodies were found is small. The bed covers had been drawn back but it was apparent that no one had been in the bed. Unwashed dishes stood in the sink. Mrs. Whitney was wearing her undergarments and Whitney a night shirt.

On the table was found a letter from a niece of Mrs. Whitney's who lives at Chicago Heights, Ill., in which she wished her aunt Christmas cheer.

On the wall over Whitney's head was a poem beginning, "Sometimes I wonder what we'll find when we've left this earth . . ."

Whitney was about 52 years old and his wife about 47.

Orders Inquest Into Two Deaths

An inquest into the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Whitney, whose bodies were found in the back room of their grocery store at 436 South Ninth street Thursday morning, will probably be held some time Friday, according to County Attorney Charles E. Matson.

The inquest will be held at Castle, Roper and Matthews, where the bdoies were taken.

BIG DONATION TO MIDLAND COLLEGE

Henry C. Luckey Of Lincoln Gives $50,000 For Girls' Dormitory.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 20.—It was announced today at Midland college that Henry C. Luckey of Lincoln had donated $50,000 to the college to be used for the erection of a girls' dormitory to be known as Mr. and Mrs. Henry C Luckey hall. Work will start in the spring. Mr. Luckey is vice-president of the board of trustees of Midland.

Henry C Luckey, who has made a donation of $50,000 to Midland college, resides at Fortieth and Holdrege streets and is improving and marketing a ten-acre tract which he owns in that neighborhood. He is a graduate of the state university, where he has received three degres. At the time the world war broke out he was on his way to Europe to further pursue his education, but was compelled to abandon this plan. He returned to Lincoln and went to work on his property and is said to have been very successful financially. He came to Lincoln from Memphis, Neb., in 1900.

NEW AID MEASURE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Plans to aid wheat growers by granting government loans which fwould permit them to purchase cattle and diversify their farming were drafted into a bill today by several members of the senate and house from the northwest.

SOUDER SLEPT TIME OF FIRE

Former County Treasurer Says He Was At Home in Bed When Blaze Was Discovered and He Remained There.

KNEW NOTHING OF IT UNTIL NEXT MORNING

Man Charged With Firing the Lincoln County Court House Gives Testimony In His Own Behalf Thursday Morning.

(Associated Press)

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Dec. 20.—S. M Souder, former county treasurer, was home in bed at the time of the burning of the old Lincoln county court house last April 29, according to testimony given by Souder in his trial in which he is charged with responsibility for the burning of that structure.

Taking the witness stand in his own behalf, Mr. Souder told the jury when questioned by Attorney Victor Halligan of his legal staff, that when he returned from his farm to his city home aobut 10:30 on the Sunday night of the blaze which was observed around 12:30 or 1 a. m., Monday he retired for the night and did not get up for the remainder of the night

"Did you hear the fire whistles?" asked Attorney Halligan.

"I did not," the witness responded in a clear voice that could be heard in all quarters of the court room.

Souder, calmly replying to the question of his attorney, detailed his activities on the Saturday and Sunday immediately preceding the fire, describing several visits he had made to his farm, and telling of illness from a stomach complaint with which he had been afflicted prior to the time the court house was burned.

Talk of Fire Common.

The witness could not recall any conversation which W. J. Hendy of the Hendy-Ogier automobile sales company of North Platte had testified he had with him on the day before the fire, in a vault in the county clerk's office, in which Hendy, as a witness for the prosecution, had quoted Souder as offering the information that it would be a "terrible" thing if the court house would burn.

While he could not recall having made the statement, it would not be an unusual thing if he had, he testified, adding that talk of the court house burning down was common at the time and had been for some time previous, the possibility of such a blaze having been advanced as an argument by Lincoln county residents who favored erection of a new building.

Souder admitted that he bought a five gallon can of lubricating oil on the Sunday just before the fire and that he had purchased a similar amount at another service station the same day, explaining that his brother had informed him their stock was getting low. The commodity was used, he declared, for farm machinery, consisting of two tractors and a truck. Neither was it unusual for him to make purchases at different places, he said, because it had been his business policy to distribute his purchases as much as possible.

A number of exhibits, including an American flag and county records, purporting to have been soaked in oil, were introduced by the state during presentation of its direct testimony.

Files An Answer To Damage Suit

In an answer filed in federal court Thursday, the Burlington railroad says the $50,000 damage suit brought against the carried by Henry Cleveland is a scheme to falsely obtain money from the railroad company. Cleveland alleged that he was injured through the negligence of the company and that the accident resulted in the loss of his left leg.

The Burlington asserts that the accident was due to Cleveland's own negligence and that the leg was not amputated because of the injury but that the limb had previously been infected and this necessitated the amputation.

Annual Meeting Of Chamber January 8

The annual meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held at the chamber Tuesday evening, January 8, according to an announcement Thursday, by Secretary Walter S. Whitten. A speaker of national prominence will be secured to address the meeting The task of getting the speaker has been delegated to Julius Barnes, secretary of the United States chamber of commerce, and to Charles G Dawes.

Wood Investigation Is Asked By Frear

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Congressional investigation of charges made by Filipinos against Major General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, was asked today in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Frear, republican of Wisconsin.

MEET DEATH TOGETHER

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Whitney, who were found dead early Thursday morning in the living quarters of their store at 436 South Ninth street. Police and county authorities investigating the tragedy advance the theory that one was killed and the other then committed suicide An inquest will be held sometime Friday.

Millions Visit National Parks

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Dec 20.—Confirmation of a report last week that the Portland gold mine in Cripple Creek had made an important strike was given yesterday by officials of the company here. An excellent grade of shipping ore has been uncovered at the 5,700 foot level, though the full extent of the vein has not yet been determined, they said. It will be required at least six months of development work before the full extent of the find is known.

A TRAIN BANDIT MAKES ESCAPE

Lone Robber Holds Up Passengers Near Milwaukee —Flees With $579.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Police of Chicago, Milwaukee and cities along the north shore were seeking the lone train robber who leisurely cleaned the pockets of three passengers and the flagman of the crack Pioneer limited train of $579, pulled the bell cord and escaped as the train entered the outskirts of Milwaukee.

As the train passed Corliss, thirty miles south of Milwaukee on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the man entered the vestibule of the observation car. He donned a black mask, and, flourishing a revolver, entered the smoking compartment.

Without haste, he emptied the pockets of the four men he found there. He took $160 in American currency and $250 in Canadian currency from R. J. Henderson, Minneapolis; $70 from O. S. Smith, Minneapolis; $76 from O. B. Lamb, Watertown, S D, and $21 from Charles Krumer, the flagman.

As the last man handed over his valuables, the bandit pulled the bell cord and swung off the rear platform.

FORD CAUSES A REAL SENSATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Henry Fords announcement in favor of President Coolidge furnished a double barreled sensation to political circles in the national capital.

At the white house, it was received with undisguised satisfaction.

Among the democrats there was an evident conviction that the air had been cleared considerably with respect to the nomination of democratic presidential candidate in 1924.

Everywhere among the old line party leaders the feeling was that no considerable Ford third party movement now seemed likely.

A three cornered contest for the president not only would make it harder for the old parties to keep advised as to the trend of public sentiment during the campaign, but some political prognosticators even were talking of a possible deadlock in the electoral college.

The announcement of Mr. Ford did not come altogether as a surprise to those most active in promoting Mr. Coolidges candidacy for the republican nomination. The manufacturer spent nearly half an hour in conference with the president about two weeks ago, and afterward white house officials emphasized that their talk had been quite satisfactory.

MANY REBELS DESERT.

TAMPICO, Dec 20.—Rebel troops under General Martinez, who were defeated by the federals at San Marcos, retreated all night long to Vera Cruz, pursued by government forces The casualities were not given but dispatches said that the fighting was severe and that many rebels deserted to the federals.

COOLIDGE LEAGUE OFFICERS NAMED

Lincoln Men Placed On Board Of Directors Of New Organization.

President's Backers In Nebraska Prepare to Get Into Battle.

OMAHA, Dec. 20—(By the A. P.)—Organization of the Coolidge-for-President league of Nebraska formally got under way here today when members of the board of directors and state officers of the league were named. Many persons identified with the Johnson-for-President movement four years ago and persons who are said to have been prominent in the Taft organization in 1912, are among those named on the board of directors of the Coolidge organization.

The Coolidge league of Nebraska, according to the announcement made by Ross L Shotwell, organizer of the league, will co-operate with western campaign managers of President Coolidge. One of the president's managers will come to Omaha shortly after the first of the year when a meeting of the board of directors will be held. No definite date for the meeting has as yet been made.

Attempts will be made to organize Coolidge-for-President leagues in every county in the state. According to Mr. Shotwell, the Coolidge for president sentiment is rapidly spreading, especially in the agricultural districts.

The officers of the Nebraska league named at the meeting of the state organization are as follow. A. V. Shotwell, an attorney of Omaha, president. Anthony J Donahue, president of the state federation of labor, vice president, and Harry S. Byrne of Omaha, chairman of the board of directors.

Members of the board of directors named at the meeting include: Walter W. Head of Omaha, president of the American Bankers association; T. L. Matthews of Fremont; R. V. Rodman of North Platte; Edward Williams of Grand Island; M. L. Poteet, of Lincoln; Robert W. Devoe, Lincoln; Thorne A. Browne, Lincoln; E. A. Cook, Lincoln; E. F. Boehmer, Lincoln; Burton K. Bushee, Lincoln; and William H. Pitzer of Nebraska City.

Ambrose C. Epperson, of Hastings, was named chairman of the executive committee, and will be assisted by John J. McCarty. M. O. McLaughlin, member of congress from York, is also a member of the committee.

Funds for maintaining the organization will be solicited shortly after the state wide meeting is held, probably in January. After the meeting with Mr Coolidge's campaign manager is held it was said, the president's name probably would be placed on the Nebraska primary, which is to be held early in April.

A resolution adopted at the meeting declared that "no man in public life today is better equipped than Calvin Coolidge to lead us into an era of confidence and co-operation which will result in the fullest prosperity for agriculture, labor, manufacturing, transportation and commerce.

The resolution also pledged the members of the league to do all in its power to bring about the nomination and election of President Coolidge in 1924.

To Attend Meeting Of Omaha Branch

Wallace Thornton, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and twenty-five members of the insurance sub-division of the chamber, left Thursday for Omaha where they will attend a meeting of the insurance sub-division of the Omaha chamber. The meeting is being held for the purpose of extendin gthe work of organizing sub-divisions in other chambers, to the end that there be a better understanding between insurance men and those in other lines of endeavor. The party will attend a banquet to be given by the Omaha chamber Thursday night.

BIGGEST BOOM SINCE THE WAR CLOSE AT HAND

Herbert Hoover, Comptroller Dawes And Other National Leaders Pleased With Business Outlook For 1924.

MANY "BAROMETERS" ARE CITED AS PROOF

Secretary Of Commerce Asserts United States Never In Better Position Than At The Present Time.

(Copyright, 1923 by International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec 20—America faces one of its greatest post war business years in 1924. A majority of business leaders look for "continued improvement" over 1923, regarded generally as a good year. The most pessimistic prediction looks to the new year with "conservative optimism"

This is the consensus compiled by International News Service from bankers, merchants and manufacturers from coast to coast.

Business barometers cited in proof of the hopeful view are the condition of stocks, the building boom, improvements and additions to railroad equipment, increased savings deposits, a rush for life insurance, sound employment conditions and the vastly improved conditions of the American farmer.

The steel industry is conceded to be the most reliable "business barometer."

CARS DEMOLISH RAIL STATION

Eleven Injured When Two Coaches Of Baltimore and Ohio Train Leaves Tracks And Crash Into Depot At Bethesda, O.

BETHESDA, O., Dec. 20.—The Baltimore and Ohio passenger station was demolished and eleven persons injured today when two cars of a Chicago-bound train left the track and crashed into the structure. Two men in the waiting room of the station were injured, one seriously.

Two big engines were pulling the train and it is thought these may have caused the track to spread. A smoker and day coach were thrown completely through the station

Alvin McCormick and Arthur Mead who were in the station, were caught beneath falling timbers. McCormick was badly crushed and injured internally

Other victims of the wreck escaped with cuts and bruises.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN SHOT

Harold Gates of Ft. Crook Wounded by John Jackson Near Ashland at Noon Thursday.

Harold Gates, 29, deputy state game warden, whose home is at Ft. Crook, was shot in the breast about noon Thursday by John Jackson, 19, at a point a half mile north of Ashland. It is not believed that the wound is dangerous. Jackson was taken into custody by Gates and his companion, Byron Fowler, also a deputy game warden, and was taken to Ashland, where he is being held.

According to the story told by Mr. Fowler, he and Gates, who has been game warden for about four years, were on their way to Lincoln in an automobile when they met Jackson and another young man walking in the road and carrying guns. Fowler says that the youths made disparaging remarks about them as they passed, so the two officers made up their minds to go back and inspect the hunting licenses of the pair.

As Gates and Fowler started back the others began running, and coming to a house, darted behind it. The pursuers separated, Fowler going around the house in the car and Gates on foot. As he went around one corner it is stated Gates was confronted by Jackson with gun levcied. The two were only about thirty feet apart when Jackson pulled the trigger.

Badge Deflects Shot.

Gates was wearing his badge over his heart and it is stated two of the shot struck this metallic emblem of authority and were deflected. Two others struck and penetrated the stomach, but it is not thought the wounds are deep or dangerous. The injured man was hurried to the office of Dr. C. H. Clark at Ashland, where the wounds were dressed. The two young men were taken along, but it is stated by Deputy Fowler that Jackson's companion, whose name the officer would not give, was not placed under arrest. Fowler also said that he did not know what would be done with the man charged with doing the shooting and would not know until he heard from his superior

That Gates was not no more severely injured is attributed to the fact that he was wearing a heavy overcoat and a rather heavy coat beneath. He has a wife and four children at his home at Ft. Crook.

Koster To Ashland.

State Game Warden George Koster left for Ashland imediately upon receipt of word that Deputy Gates had been shot at Ashland.

SOVIETS HOPED FLY FLAG ON WHITE HOUSE

State Department Discloses Propaganda Largely Responsible For Hughes' Refusal to Recognize Russian Government.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Plans attributed to Russian soviet authorities for organizing and training "fighting units among American industrial workers to raise the red flag over the white house were published today on authority of the state department to disclose definitely the basis of Secretary Hughes' charge of revolutionary propaganda in his refusal to enter into negotiations with the Moscow government.

Detailed communist instructions from Russia to the workers party of America, the authenticity of which was vouched for by the department of justice, called for weekly "instructions in shooting" for the "fighting units," in addition to "all other matters." The plans outlined the document stated, were designed to "give enormous results in the sense of preparing thousands of new propagandists, future leaders of the military forces of the party and faithful fighers during the socialist revolution."

Organization of units of ten, according to occupation and nationality "in factories, mills, plantations, clubs, etc" was proposed in the instructions which are credited to Zinoviev, president of the communist Internationale and of the Petrograd soviet.

ANNOUNCE TWO NEW CARDINALS

Creation Made Known Following Secret Consistory At Vatican.

ROME, Dec. 20.—Two new cardinals were created today at a secret consistory at the vatican. They were Monsignor Lucidi and Monsignor Galli.

Afterwards a papal allocution was issued expressing gratification over the Irish settlement and appealing to wheat growing countries to come to the aid of destitute and starving peoples.

Pope Pius XI, in his allocution said he was still anxious over the fate of Archbishop Zepliak of the Roman Catholic church, who is imprisoned in Russia.

The Pontiff expressed pleasure over the successful visit of King Alfonso of Spain, to Italy and said he was delighted over the Irish settlement.

The appeal to the wheat growing countries was made through Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state. The pontiff said he looked for generosity such as in the past saved thousands of lives in Russia and the Near East.

CONGRESS BEGINS HOLIDAY RECESS

Senate Organization Still Incomplete As Solons Postpone Labors.

Will Renew Efforts to Break Deadlock After Christmas "Vacatin."

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Congress began a two weeks' holiday recess today with senate organization still incomplete and a practically blank record of legislative accomplishment since it assembled on December 3.

With some of its committees functioning during the holidays the house will be able to get down to the serious business after it reassembles on January 3. The senate, however, will come back to renew its efforts to break the deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee unless it should prove possible for leaders to effect some sort of a compromise in the meantime

Prison Trustee to Live as a Convict In Cell for Two Weeks

(Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—W. Curtis Bok, recently appointed member of the board of trustees of the Eastern State penitentiary, plans to become a "convict" for two weeks and live in a cell at the institution to gain first hand information of life behind the grim prison walls.

Mr. Bok who was appointed to the board shortly after a jail delivery last month, said today his experiment probably would cover the second and third weeks in January. The first day or so will be spent in a receiving cell.

He will be assigned to a block and will be given a cell. He will rise at 6 o'clock and at 7 o'clock will be marched to the mess hall for breakfast. His days will be spent about the prison yard and in the shops. He plans to spend part of the evening in conference with other members of the board of trustees to discuss improvements and changes beneficial to the convicts.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR
Beats Electric or Gas
A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent comon kerosene (coal oil).
The inventor, C. N. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—advertisement.

At the Theatres

"Lightnin'" Comes to the Orpheum Thursday, Dec. 27th.

Thomas Jefferson, son of the late Joseph Jefferson, continued to sway capacity audiences as Bill Jones, the old soldier hero of "Lightnin'" and it is expected that he will be greeted as an old friend when the famous comedy classic returns to the Orpheum theatre, Thursday, December 27. Practically the same cast that introduced the play to Omaha last year is paying return visits to the principal cities this season and from the imposing box office receipts it would seem that "Lightnin's" record as a "repeater" will be quite as sensational as those established on its first engagements. Like "The Old Homestead," "The Music Master" and other perennial favorites of distinctly American theme, its gentle humor and wholesome heart interests lose none of their freshness with the passing months. Bessie Bacon, daughter of the Late Frank Bacon, still has the role of the flirtatious vaudeville actress whose divorce suit enlivens the play's famous courtroom scene. She has a record of 2,000 performances in "Lightnin'."

Guy Bates Post Comes to the Orpheum Saturday, December 29.

Guy Bates Post, America's greatest actor, after a tour of Australia where he was acclaimed as such, comes to the Orpheum Saturday Matinee and night.

Mr. Post appears in Edward J. Lock's powerful and unusual play "The Climax," in a part which is designed to give full expression to his superb artistry — Luigi Golganti, teacher of music and great lover—within the walls of whose studio the drama is enacted which adds another laurel to the wreath of Guy Bates Post's achievements.

After a career of twenty-five years on the stage in Australia and in his native land, Guy Bates Post bears, carries and controls more weight, more honors and more followers than any other man in his profession.

All America honors his achievements. Foreign lands have hailed him as the greatest American actor and crowded theatres to the point of suffocation to witness his superb artistic performance.

He has the distinction of having entertained more men and women within a given period than any other person in his line who ever lived. In every city in which he has appeared he has established new records from the point of artistic satisfaction given, as well as from the point of financial receipts.

Joe Thomas' Sax-O-Tette Headlines A Splendid New Bill at the Liberty Today.

A bouquet of vaudeville novelties, fun music and dancing opens at the Liberty, matinee today for the week end. Joe Thomas' Sax-o-tette is a comedy musical novelty with a dash of song and dance; The Oliver Trio, two clever comedians and a pretty miss have an offering crammed with fun entitled "Funny Face and Pals,"; Garcinetti Brothers are amazing European entertainers; Mr. Sweeney and Master Walter will be seen in an extensive program packed with laughter; Sawyer & Eddy generators of thrills; "Ruth of the Range" and "Current News and Views completes the big bill.

A GOOD NAME HAS DREAMLAND
OPEN EVERY WEEK NIGHT
We know that we are criticised, by a certain class, for running a dance pavilion as strict as Dreamland is run. This hall was opened believing there was room for just such a dance hall in Lincoln, where you could bring your friends and guests from out of town, for an evening of enjoyment and have no apology to make. Where a crowd of girls could come and dance together. Where a mother is glad to bring her daughter for an evening. Where your daughter, son, sister or sweetheart can come and will be treated as ladies and gentlemen and will have to act as such in Dreamland. There is absolutely no rough stuff allowed and objectionable characters are not tolerated. We want the patronage of people looking for this kind of a dance hall and are glad to co-operate with organizations having a good name and where the proceeds go to a worthy purpose or charity.

PREPARING FOR DEBATE SEASON

University Forensic Artists Begin Work For Contests in Triangular League.

The University of Nebraska's intercollegiate debate work for the year 1923-24 opens this week in preparation for the annual forensic contests in the triangular league composed of Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota.

This year Nebraska will meet South Dakota at home and will send a team to Iowa—the reverse of the schedule last year. The debates will be held earlier than usual, on March 13, according to announcement by Prof. M. M. Fogg.

The question will be the prohibition of immigration for a term of years. It was proposed by Iowa and South Dakota. The exact phrasing of the proposition has not yet been announced. Students who purpose to compete, in the open try-out contest, in late January or early February, are requested to leave their names at Professor Fogg's office (University hall 112). Material on the question, including bibliography, is being prepared this week. It will be available for all students who request it.

The Nebraska intercollegiate debate seminary, where Cornhusker debaters have forged their cases for twenty-two years, will be set up for action beginning January 2.

One of Nebraska's strongest debaters of recent years, Sheldon Tefft, '22, law '24, of Weeping Water, will probably not go on the firing-line again this year, where he has been the last three years. He was recently awarded the Rhodes scholarship from Nebraska over some thirty-five competitors.

Chinese Chief Hopeful Navy Will Not Act

(Associated Press.)

HONG KONG, Dec. 20.—In a message addressed to "My friends, the American people," Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, south China leader, whose threat to seize the customs funds at Canton has resulted in a concentration of warships of five foreign powers in Canton harbor, declares it would be a "crime and an undying shame if the naval power of America were used forcibly in the collection of customs within the territory of my government so that tyrants and militarists might flourish at Peking."

Sun has caused the message to be published at Canton, where the condition is critical, with some of the foreign gunboats cleared for action, and a decisive step by the Canton government anticipated momentarily.

The latest reports received from Canton were that five vessels of the American Asiatic fleet were anchored in Canton harbor, with five British warships, two French and on Portuguese gunboat.

Expect Japanese Cabinet To Resign

TOKIO, Dec. 20—Considerable surprise is expressed by vernacular newspapers here commenting upon the acceptance yesterday by the cabinet of the $50,000,000 slash in the reconstruction program forced through the diet at the demand of the Seiyukai, the majority political party.

Dissolution or resignation of the cabinet will follow the special session of the diet, in the opinion of the press.

The action of the Seiyukais is interpreted as a demonstration against Minister of Home Affairs Baron Goto who has declared war on the majority party.

DEMANDS PROBE GENERAL WOOD'S ADMINISTRATION

Representative Frear Wants Investigation By House Rules Committee.

Also Suggests Time May Be Ripe For Independence Of Philippines.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Demand for a sweeping investigation by the house rules committee of the administration in the Philippines of Governor General Wood was made in a resolution introduced today by Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin. The inquiry, he suggested, also should seek to establish whether the time is ripe to grant the islands independence.

Mr. Frear quoted certain dispatches cabled from Manila, which referred to alleged misconduct by some American and insular government officials. In conclusion he makes this proposal to the house:

"That the rules committee of the house is instructed to investigate and report to the house as soon as possible all allegations as herein set forth relating to the truth or falsity of the Manila cablegrams, the actions of Governor Wood in relation to the Philippine government, its legislation, its banks, its railways, and efforts, if any, to exploit the island by American commercial interests, the deposit of Philippine government money in American banks, the facts regarding Filipino stable government and any other matters proposed for a full report thereon to aid congress in preparing any remedial legislation."

Discussing the need of a searching inquiry, Mr. Frear declared the congress should make a full report "of any senators, representatives or other public officials, who have received money to influence their attitude toward Philippine independence as repeatedly charged in the different cablegrams quoted."

M. & O. Will Not Make Any Special Rates to Ministers

Although the M. & O. railroad (Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha) was not a party defendant in the injunction suit brought by C. A. Sorenson against five Nebraska carriers which resulted in a decision by Judge Morning holding the "preachers' pass" law invalid, that line has decided in view of the decision that it will sell no more reduced rate tickets to clergymen, at least for the present.

The M. & O. had reported no passes issued within the state of Nebraska, but had made a special rate open to all members of the clergy. The following communication has been sent to station agents and conductors in the state by General Passenger Agent G. H. McRae:

"Until further notice, western clergy certificates must not be honored for reduced fare tickets between points in Nebraska where the entire route is through the state of Nebraska. Such certificates however may be honored for tickets from points in Nebraska to points in other states at two-thirds of the regular fare as heretofore.

"The cancellation of the reduced rates within the state of Nebraska for clergymen becomes necessary to comply with an injunction issued by the district court of Lancaster county, Nebraska, which restrains the railroads from taking advantage of that part of the Nebraska law which makes it permissable to issue free or reduced fare transportation for clergymen.

"Please be governed accordingly, and in case any such certificates are presented for reduced fare tickets within the state, inform the holder courteously why it will be impossible to issue reduced fare tickets."

Judge Jails a Man Who Whipped Child To "Benefit Soul"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20—Welts and slashes on the back and limbs of 6-year old Thelma Kane caused her teachers to launch an investigation which ended in justice court at Corona, near here, when her father, Lloyd Kane, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. Kane told the court he beat his daughter because she would not sit quiet during church services. He did it for "the benefit of her soul," he added.

Justice Thomas P. Reed then fined him $25 and sentenced him to thirty days in jail "for the good of his soul."

Waives Hearing And Is Held to U. S. Grand Jury

W. D. Peppers, named with Kenneth Clark and Orley Gardner in a complaint charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Whitmore Wednesday evening and was bound over to the federal grand jury under a $1,000 bond. The bond was furnished.

Gardner was out on a two year parole up to the time of his recent arrest. He was convicted two years ago on a forgery charge.

U. S. District Attorney Don Stewart said Thursday morning that he would release Gardner to the state authorities if they decided to make him finish his sentence on the forgery charge.

Loan to Germans Appears Unlikely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Negotiations for a commercial loan to Germany to meet her desperate economic situation have broken down and relief must come in some form of charity in the opinion of high treasury officials, it was announced today.

Use of Germany's products as collateral for commercial loans would not be acceptable to American bankers, unless priority would be given over reparations, officials said.

FORD BOOSTERS LEFT IN A HOLE

Nebraska Partisans Of Manufacturer Dazed By Announcement.

Name Filed To Go On Ballot Unless He Asks Its Removal.

Henry Ford's declaration supporting Coolidge for re-election and giving notice that he himself would not accept a nomination on any ticket to run against Coolidge, has left the "Ford for president" boosters in Nebraska, as elsewhere, in an embarrassing plight.

Petition naming Ford as a presidential candidate in the third party progressive primary were filed with Secretary of State Pool three months ago by Roy M. Harrop of Omaha and have been officially accepted. As matters stand now, the automobile maker's name is to be printed on the progressive ballot. If he asks that it be taken off, however, Secretary Pool will do so.

Mr. Pool predicted two weeks ago that Ford would wind up by coming out for Coolidge. The Detroit millionaire's weekly newspaper has been saying nice things about the president right along, and not long ago Ford called and took luncheon at the white house. But in spite of these things, his active supporters were not prepared for the political bombshell which he has just exploded in their front yard. It leaves them dazed and undecided what to do.

"If Ford hadn't endorsed Coolidge's candidacy he could have carried Nebraska in the primaries on any party ticket," said Pool. "Of course, that's out of the question now. I look for a letter from him any day asking to have his name omitted from the primary ballot, as no man could consistently run for an office on one ticket while supporting a candidate for that office on another ticket."

Some of the state house politicians are wondering how Congressman A. C. Shallenberger of the Fifth district feels about it now. Before going to Washington and before refiling for congress, Mr. Shallenberger publicly stated his intention to "do all in my power to see that Ford is given the preferential democratic endorsement of Nebraska." He intimated that he would have democratic petitions for Ford circulated, but this has not been done, so far as is known.

DENY WASHINGTON MEDIATION OFFER

Mexican Official Says Report Untrue U. S. May Intercede In Trouble.

Rebel Advance Against Mexico City From Vera Cruz Apparently Checked.

(Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 20.—Enrique colunga, secretary of the interior, denying reports that Washington has ffered to mediate with those rebelling against the Obregon government, said "Mexico had not officially received the proposition, which would have been rejected as it would imply recognition of the rebels' belligerency."

Survey of Situation

The rebel advance against Mexico City from Vera Cruz has apparently been checked, for the moment, at least, near San Marcos, eighty-five miles east of the capital, where, in the words of a Mexico City dispatch, the fate of the rebellion is being decided.

Revolutionary headquarters in Vera Cruz claims the federals have withdrawn toward the capital, but this is not borne out by newspaper correspondents on the scene, who report that the situation has remained stationary since Tuesday's fighting with the advance guards of the opposing forces in contact near San Marcos. President Obregon, in a message to the Associated Press, brands the rebels' claims as false and says he had "reason to believe that peace will be restored very quickly."

A federal thrust from the south in an effort to cut the railway line between Vera Cruz and the rebel armies is reported in a movement by General Juan Dominguez over the railway from Santa Lucrecia, with Corodoba and Orazibа as his objectives.

Donates Business to Partners After Amassing a Big Fortune

NEW YORK, Dec 20.—Having accumulated a fortune of more than $2,000,000 in Wall street, John Berg, one of the leading members of the curb market, today announced his retirement from the brokerage field, and the gift of his business to three junior members of the firm.

"I have made my pile," Mr. Borg said, "so I am getting out and letting the younger fellows make theirs. I am giving them the business because they have earned it and I have no further use for it myself, as I have all the money I need.

"I am particularly anxious to devote more time to my hobby—a newspaper. While I am not a newspaper man, I've got my own ideas as to how a newspaper should be run. I think it ought, primarily to serve the community in which it is located. My newspaper, the Bergen (New Jersey) Evening Record, is making some money, but with me profit in that enterprise is a secondary consideration."

Mr. Borg started in Wall street as a $4 a week office boy soon after he was graduated from the Union Hall, N. J. high school in 1897. Only a few years later he was in business for himself, executing orders in the old out-door curb market on Broad street He is now only 42 years old.

Approves Change In Rates For The Interurban

Twenty-five dollars per month is the additional revenue which General Manager J. M. Bramlette estimated that the Omaha, Lincoln & Beatrice Interurban railroad, operating between Lincoln, University Place and Bethany, will receive from certain increased rates which the state railway commission approved Thursday, after a brief hearing.

No one appeared in opposition to the company's request, while Peter Gilbertson for the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce endorsed it on behalf of that body. The new schedule eliminates third and fourth class rates and puts the commodities heretofore taking those rates under first and second classes. The minimum charge is also advanced from 20 to 25 cents.

Ice cream, which is moved in large quanties by the interurban, is not affected by the changes. There will be some increases on groceries, fruits and other merchandise. These are shipped mainly by wholesale houses in Lincoln for quick delivery to their suburban customers, after the wholesale trucks have made their regular rounds for the day.

MATHERS AGAINST 'SPOILS SYSTEM'

Issues Statement Bearing Upon State Appointments and Patronage.

Speaker A. N. Mathers of the Nebraska house, republican primary candidate for governor from his home at Gering has issued the following statement bearing upon state appointments and patronage.

I have been approached relative to my position on the 'spoils system,' asking me to modify my stand in this [illegible] do so I would have less opposition in the primaries.

I made but one answer and herein restate the same to the women and men voters of Nebraska. There can be no satisfactory tax reduction economy and efficiency in state government, until the spoils system is eliminated and the administrative affairs of the state is taken from the hands of 'professional politicians' and political henchmen and placed in charge of hard workin gand capable average citizens.

Shall Nebraska have a business administration or continue a political monstrosity?

Not all present and past appointees are political loafers and political machine henchmen no all but an alarming number are, and hundreds of thousands of the tax payers dollars are thus consumed—wasted by the spoils system.

Above all else, I pledge to the people of Nebraska, if I am elected governor to eliminate the spoils system and purge the administration of state affairs of professional politicians clearing the executive department of machine building politics which has and continues to drain the tax payers pockets.

Says Won't Take Dictation.

Win or lose, I shall mix no political medicine with any professional political group that would put up and/over their candidate only to ruin his official service by dictating his appointments and administration.

Because of this positive stand I have acquired some disfavor. Professional politicians have frankly told me that while I may have some common sense, I certainy have no political sense. Possibly that is true. However I maintain that only afte. the spoils system and professional politicians are eleminated from state government can there be efficiency economy and satisfactory state administration.

This is my position. If elected governor I shall carry it out to the letter. Naturally I desire the support of all. Yet even though some clique or faction must oppose me, I positively will not yield from the above policy. I shall either be governor able to serve the whole state instead of some small scheming political group or not be governor. It is up to the women and men voters of Nebraska.

ASKS $170,830 AS INCOME TAX

Revenue Department Files Big Claim Against Bankrupt Potash Company.

A claim amounting to $170 830 94 was filed Thursday with D. H. McClenahan referee in bankruptcy against the bankrupt Western Potash Works and American Potash Companies of Nebraska and Delaware consolidated by the U. S. Internal Revenue department.

The claim is for unpaid income taxes which were assessed against the company by the government during 1918.

The company went into bankruptcy about two years ago and settlement is still pending in the courts. S. C. Waugh of Lincoln was appointed trustee in bankruptcy.

TRENMOR CONE IN SENATORIAL RACE

Waterloo Man Makes Filing As Candidate On Democratic Ticket.

Trenmor Cone of Waterloo came right up to the scratch Thursday forenoon by filing his application with Secretary of State Pool to have his name printed on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for United States senator and presenting a receipt from the treasurer of Douglas county showing $20 had been paid as the legal filing fee.

This puts Cone into the race ahead of Governor Bryan or any other prospective democratic senatorial candidate. He makes no secret of the fact that he filed so as to queer Bryan's chances. His platform is a square deal for everybody.

Mr. Cone furnished the reporters with his photographs and copies of what he called Statement No. 1 promising that there will be more to follow. Here are a few gems of thought selected therefrom:

"To defend our liberties to transact the public business safely and to promote happiness and progress, is the work committed to a law maker.

"To take constant council with the people he serves is the primary duty of a public servant.

"There is nothing mysterious or awe inspiring in government.

"Our political problems are largely economic ones.

"We need every kind of honest business big and little.

"The only way to reduce the cost of government is to cut out the rotten, the waste and the unnecessary in it, to cut out the camouflage and the bunk in politics.

"I shall from time to time take the people of the state into my confidence on every vital issue."

FORMER UNIVERSITY GIRL AT OPENING OF CONGRESS.

Gladyce Vell Simmons, formerly of Lincoln and a graduate of this state university, is in Washington this winter with her husband, Robert G. Simmons, congressman from the sixth district. She is having her first experiences in the social and political life of the capital and is greatly interested in it all. She attended the opening session of congress and has written of it in part as follows:

"About 10 o'clock Bob phoned me that I'd better come so I did—but by the time I got ready and traveled our eleven miles to the capitol, the mob was so dense that one couldn't get even a peek into the gallery. So I sat in the back row of the president's section. I spent some time looking at Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth. She is a very fine looking woman She was beautifully gowned, but impressed me as little concerned with her appearance. She was the only woman in all that crowd who had removed her hat. She was greatly interested in the proceedings. I read that she is an ardent student of statecraft.

"But of course, the great thing was below—the 415 men moving about for all the world like a bunch of college men back at school in September—slapping each other on the back, hailing passersby, visiting, introducing new members. It was far from offering any appearance of stiffness or awe. The men were much younger than I had expected to see.

"Of interest to me was the woman member, Mrs. Nolan of California She was there with her daughter, a ten or twelve year old girl, both with beautiful auburn hair.

"Wednesday I went down to hear the president give his message. Such mobs. Mrs Coolidge came into the executive section promptly at 12.24 o'clock and was honored by everyone rising and applauding She is a fine looking woman, very gracious and friendly in her manner. In the section with her were several ladies wives of cabinet members."

HELEN HUFFMAN COMING FOR HOLIDAY VISIT.

Miss Helen Huffman of Lincoln, a senior this year at the Chicago National Kindergarten and Elementary college, will be at home for the Christmas holidays. In connection with her practise teaching Miss Huffman has been doing very interesting work with a group of subnormal children, and is greatly interested in the results which are being obtained. Miss Huffman has been of great assistance in all musical events of the college during the fall, winning special comment as one of the strolling minstrels in the toy carnival given recently for the benefit of the building fund for the new college to be erected in Evanston. She has also been chosen as one of the quartette which is to sing Christmas carols over the radio this evening from station W. J. A. Z

HELEN BAIN BRIDE OF ORVILLE S. REILLY.

The marriage of Miss Helen Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R Bain, of 1448 Vine street, to Orville S. Reilly, son of Mrs Bertha McClintock of Auburn, will take place this evening at 8.30 o'clock at the Bain home Today is also the forty-first wedding anniversary of the bride's parents

Rev. B. M. Nyce of the First Presbyterian church will perform the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The Christmas colors and decorations will be used in the appointments for the wedding. Miss Margaret Haberlan will play the Lohengrin wedding march and the bride and groom preceded by the matron of honor and best man, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Smock, will come down the stairway into the living room, where the ceremony will take place. The bride will wear a frock of brown taffeta with corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Smock will be gowned in black satin black crepe with trimmings of tan with bright-colored corsage. Mrs. Joe Barton will sing "Because" at the close of the ceremony.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony during which ices and cakes will be served by the Misses Gertrude Bain and Gertrude McDonald.

The bride is a former university student and was graduated with the class of 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. Reilly will be at home after January 1 at 1448 Vine street.

LINEN SHOWER FOR HOLIDAY BRIDE.

Mrs. Alton Bennett and Miss Frances Howard entertained at a linen shower last evening at the home of Mrs. Bennett, Lincolndale apartments, complimentary to Miss Aileen Hilliard, a holiday bride. The attractive gifts decorated a prettily trimmed Christmas tree and were presented to the bride-to-be from there. Favors of Maderia handkerchiefs were given the guests. Bridge was played the latter part of the evening after which ices in the form of wedding bells and cakes were served.

MR. AND MRS. LONAM TO MOVE TO BEATRICE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lonam are planning to move to Beatrice soon after the first of the year, where Mr. Lonam will be in charge of the Dodge automobile agency. Mrs Lonam was formerly Miss Ruth Beatty, an Omaha girl, and she and Mr. Lonam were married last June. Mrs. Lonam is now in Omaha for a preholiday visit but will return to Lincoln for Christmas.

ALL-EMPLOYES PARTY FOR Y. W. C. A. STAFF.

The all-employes Christmas party of the Y. W C. A. was held Wednesday evening in the association building. Dinner was served in the club room. At the close of the dinner hour Miss Grace Bazant gave a group of songs and this was followed by a program given in the parlor by the Toonerville school, district No. 13 A social hour around a beautifully decorated Christmas tree brought to a close a very enjoyable evening.

LUNCHEON AND SHOWER FOR DECEMBER BRIDE.

Mrs. Ross P. Curtice entertained at a charming luncheon today at her home The guest of honor was Miss Ruth Fitzgerald, a late December bride, and the guests a group of eighteen of her friends Bridal favors flowers and colors decorated the bridal table of eight places and also the several small tables. Following the luncheon there was a kitchen shower for Miss Fitzgerald who was presented with an interesting array of kitchen furnishings each accompanied by a little "kitchen sonnet."

Grand Island's Defense Ready

GRAND ISLAND, Dec. 20.—Local school authorities have completed the collection fo evidence in defense of charges brought by Hastings and growing out of the Thanksgiving day football game and are ready to meet the demand that Grand Island be ousted from the state circuit. A copy of the evidence was forwarded to the state board today. Hearing is expected to be set after the holidays.

Trial Of Jones Drawing To End

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Dec. 20.—The state resumed its examination of witnesses in the trial of Alvin Jones, chief of the city police force, on trial here on charges of malfeasance in office. The state and defense expressed the opinion that the case would be given to the jury before night. When the present trial of the chief has been completed, he will be tried on a charge of perjury, which is now pending against him.

ADMIT KILLING OF FRANK GIBILTERRA

Quarrel Over Liquor Leads To Slaying In Omaha, Men Say.

OMAHA, Dec. 20.—Alfio De George and Salvatore Giampapa, arrested by police today in connection with the slaying of Frank Gibilterra, Tuesday afternoon are said to have admitted to the police they killed Gibilterra. The slaying is said to have resulted over a quarrel over the division of money from liquor sales. They said they killed the man in self defense.

Detectives arrested the men at the home of a friend shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. The prisoners told almost identical stories with the exception that they differed over the cause of the quarrel.

One story was that the dead man requested tso keep a quantity of mash in the basement of a pool hall owned by De George, when the latter refused. Gibilterra is said to have started a fight. The other was that they disagreed over the division of the money from certain liquor sales.

After the slaying the men went to Council Bluffs where they stayed Tuesday night. They returned here early yesterday. Their capture this morning was effected without difficulty.

Would Oust Police Judge

Jerry Howard of Omaha, who is factory inspector for the state labor department, came to Lincoln to make complaint before Governor Bryan against Police Judge Dineen of Omaha for dismissing four complaints which Howard caused to be filed against business establishments there for violation of the female labor law. He wanted proceedings started to remove Dineen from office.

The governor, however, had gone to Chicago, and Howard took his grievance to Attorney General Spillman, who advised him to see County Attorney Beal at Omaha.

The alleged violations included working women employes after 10 p. m. and failing to provide each one with a chair. A department store and a hotel were among those complained against

SETTLEMENT FOR $2,000 REACHED

Lump Sum to Widow Of Lincoln Man Who Died From Sunstroke.

Mrs. Minnie B. Wolfe of Lincoln will receive $2,000 in a lump sum for the death of her husband, caused by sunstroke last summer, while he was working for the Trester Wrecking company. Payment in that sum was agreed upon as full settlement between her and the surety company, in the compensation proceedings before the state labor commissioner.

For the fracturing of his skull and permanent injuries to his right arm and wrist, sustained from an unexplained gas pipe explosion while he was handling junk, William Erpeloff is allowed $2.520 in 300 weekly installments of $8.40 each and subsequently he is to be paid $6.30 a week for the rest of his life on account of 60 per cent permanent disability. The award runs against the Northwestern Metal company, of Lincoln, his employer.

The Richardson Scale company of Omaha is ordered to pay the maximum benefit of $5,250, plus $150 for burial expense, to Mrs. Mary Ellen Bulger, for herself and two children surviving dependents of John D Bulger, who died of blood poisoning developed from a nail scratch on his upper lip. He was employed as a salesman and expert repair man and was examining a scale in a grain elevator at Anita, Ia., when the accident occurred

Payment of $750 will be made by the Hippodrome cafe proprietors in Omaha to relatives of Peter Soldates who was killed in a quarrel with one of his fellow employes The money goes back to Greece through the consul of that nationality at Omaha.

Total compensation of $950 is granted to Leander B. Smith of Fremont against Fred Young, Jr., of that city, for injuries received while working for the latter on a construction contract. Hospital and medical expenses are allowed besides

A NEW RECORD.

BOZEMAN, Mont, Dec. 20.—Officials at Montana state college reported last night that College Elvira, a junior 4-year-old Holstein heifer owned by the college had broken the world's record for milk and butter production among cows of her age owned by state institutions by producing 21,970.8 pounds of milk and 1,093 5 pounds of butter in a year's

COWGILL SPRINGS A NEW PROGRAM

Commissioner Has Brand New Plan For Administration of City Government.

Would Create Three Departments For Handling Of City Activities.

A brand new plan for a city government worked out in all its major details by Commissioner Cowgill during his leisure time Wednesday evening, was sprung upon the public by that official Thursday morning.

Mr. Cowgill concerns himself solely with the administrative end of the city government which he would divide into three equal parts Heading one part he would have either a city manager or a mayor with similar powers, who would receive from the city a salary of $6,000 yearly. Two other high officials would be named and be almost on a par with the manager in importance They would be known as the superintendent of streets and public improvements (the title which Mr. Cowgill now holds) at $5,000 a year and the superintendent of water and light at $5,000 a year.

The city manager would have under him the fire, police, health, city clerk and other odds and ends of departments, probably including the city attorney. The superintendent of streets would be the chief over the city engineer, the parks, streets, and municipal coal and gasoline stations. The superintendent of water and light would be what his title indicates only. The city treasurer's office would be abolished and combined with the county treasurer

Back of these three high officials at high salaries would be an unpaid council of five or more members—but with that detail Mr. Cowgill does not concern himself His plan is for the administrative offices only.

INSPECT BRIDGE.

WASHINGTON, Dec 20.—President Coolidge, with members of the Arlington memorial bridge association, of which he is chairman, today visited the Corcoran art gallery to inspect plans for the proposed bridge across the Potomac, connecting the Lincoln memorial on the north bank with the Lee Mansion on the south bank. It is planned to make the bridge the most beautiful in the world

Officers Named By Adams Farm Bureau

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 20.—All officers and directors of the Adams county farm bureau were re-elected at the annual meeting of the organization. Reports showed the year has been an unusually active one.

A total of 384 meetings and demonstrations have been held during the twelve months just past under the direction of County Agent Elliott R. Davis. Nearly 10,000 persons attended these meetings.

Two hundred animals were treated for blackleg and 5,000 hogs were vaccinated for cholera.

The officers re-elected were Stephen Swigle, president; R. R. Vance, vice president; Kirk Griggs, treasurer; and J. T. Biglin, secretary.

The directors are Bert Mott, Robert Huckfeldt, C. T. Palmer, George W. Bivens and J. A. Frazier.

Red Cloud Banquets Stock Judging Team

(Special to The Star.)

RED CLIUD, Neb., Dec. 20.—The Webster county stock judging team which, after winning first place at the Nebraska State Fair last fall, later won high honors at Sioux City, Kansas City and Chicago, were honor guests at a banquet given by the business men Tuesday night. The members of the team are Cecil Means of Red Cloud, Earl Portinel of Guide Rock, and Alfred Sommerfield of Blue Hill.

Following the banquet the evening was spent listening to the members of the team describe their trip to the different shows they attended. Earl Portinel described the methods used in placing the different contestants at the shows.

County Agent H. R. Fauche, coach of the team, also made an address. He described the trip and told of his experiences with the team both before the contests and while away.

Will Prospect for Oil Near Riverton

(Special to The Star.)

RIVERTON, Neb., Dec. 20—The Riverton Development company is making arrangements to "spud in" on the Kolb place three miles north west of here Thursday, December 27. Oil has been struck in Russel county, Kansas, about sixty miles south of here and there is keen interest in developments here.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS.

(Special to The Star.)

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb., Dec. 20—Plans are being made for the largest Christmas celebration ever known in the history of this village. A treat for each and every child in the community is being prepared. Christmas will be remembered here this year as one week instead of one day, for there will be some entertainment the entire week for the whole community.

MRS. JOHN'S FUNERAL.

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb., Dec. 20.—The funeral of Mrs. Anna John, who died Monday of pneumonia, was held Wednesday morning at the Lutheran church, Rev. Ad Schrein conducted the service. Mrs. John formerly resided in Blue Hill, but for the past sixteen years has made her home with her son, Will Rall and wife. She was 72 years old and was a pioneer of Blue Hill at which place interment took place Wednesday afternoon.

Must Pay Board For Time In Jail

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 20.—Fred Horth and Fred Waalk, two Chicago boys who were paroled by Judge Dilworth after they had been convicted of stealing the Hastings police car, returned to their homes Wednesday. They will report by mail to the Adams county attorney each month. Then they are to pay the costs of the action against them, $19.50 sheriff's fees and board for the 25 days during which they were in jail here. In all, they will have to pay $68.30 each and Judge Dilworth made it a provision of their parole that they pay the entire amount from their own earnings.

WILL REMEMBER BUDDIES.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 20.—American Legion men of this city are going to make the Christmas season as happy as possible for the thirteen ex-service men who are now taking treatment at the Nebraska state hospital at Ingleside. Remembering the days in the trenches when a smoke was a treat to hungry, tired men, the legionnaires have purchased pipes and tobacco for their buddies, who have been forced to remain in hospitals since the war.

HIGHWAY IMPROVED.

(Special to The Star.)

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb., Dec. 20.—The course of the Goldenrod highway has been changed here by establishing it one block east of the old route, after passing through Main street. The purpose was to avoid a low and narrow roadbed which at times has been completely covered with water. With the change this disagreeable feature will be eliminated, the new road being placed at a considerable height and broadened by twenty feet.

Prohibits Chapman From Driving Car For Three Months

F. A. Lindsorst was fined $16 and costs Thursday morning by Police Judge Chappell on a charge of speeding.

Floyd Chapman, also charged with speeding, was ordered not to drive a car until March 29.

News Briefs From the Entire World

WASHINGTON—Alcohol valued at $100,000 was seized and six men arrested by prohibition enforcement agents who yesterday raided a Front street warehouse. The alcohol had been placed in containers labeled "Linseed oil."

BISMARK, N. D.—A telegraphic request of Northern Pacific railroad attorneys who will represent the interests of all carriers in the lignite rate case fights, for postponement of the hearings set to begin in January at Aberdeen, S. D., was received yesterday by Chairman Frank Milholland of the state railroad commission.

TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA YEARS

On Face In Rash. Cuticura Healed.

"I was troubled with eczema for years. It broke out on my face in a rash when I was only three years old. I would be bothered with it for three or four weeks at a time, then it would go away for about a month and come back again. It itched and burned causing me to scratch, and the scratching caused eruptions.

"I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me, and after using three cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Blanche Welch, 417 E. Third Ave., Mitchell, So. Dak.

Use Cuticura for all toilet purposes.

HI-Y CLUBS TO LAUNCH CAMPAIGN

Members Will Aid Boys In Preparing Themselves For Vocations.

The Hi-Y federation made up of the cabinets of five Hi-Y clubs in Lincoln and vicinity met for its monthly meeting at the Hi-Y club Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock. The five clubs in the federation are Lincoln Hi-Y, University Place, Havelock, Bethany and College View. The president of the federation is Richard Smith of the Lincoln Hi-Y club. At the meeting last night each president gave a report on the activities of his club which shows great progress is being made. There are now 760 club members in the five clubs and at least 150 are enrolled in Bible study discussion club.

The matter up for consideration last night was the "Find Yourself Campaign." It was decided to launch this campaign at a dinner which will probably be attended by some 30 members of these clubs at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, January 24. C. C. Robinson of New York City, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will be the principal speaker and guest of honor. The purpose of this campaign is to give every boy an opportunity to discover what vocation he is best fitted for and to help him in planning his preparation for that vocation. A large number of best men will be needed to give interviews.

Other Hi-Y activities which will be undertaken by the federated Hi-Y clubs are a debate or oratorical contest and baseball tournament this spring.

Following the 5 o'clock meeting the regular Hi-Y meeting was held at supper, the speaker being Rev. Jack Leonard. Mr. Leonard gave a series of readings which were received with great enthusiasm by the boys.

Prohib "Agents" "Find" Everything Except Moonshine

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Evans were surprised but submissive to authority when nine men introduced themselves as prohibition agents and insisted on searching their home for liquor last night. After the "raid" the couple missed a fur automobile robe, a watch, $80 in cash and other belongings. They complained to the police and learned that no city, county or federal officers had been near their home.

Women Organize to Help In Drive For Enforcement of Law

A law enforcement committee was organized Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of representatives of the several women's organizations of the city. A slogan adopted by the committee is "Save America." The organizations represented at the meeting were the League of Women Voters, W. C. T. U., Parent-Teachers' association, Woman's club, Y. W. C. A., Lincoln Council of Churches, American legion auxiliary. Miss Maud Berry, county superintendent, represented the county schools.

Miss Eleanora Miller was elected chairman. She will arrange for conferences and mass meetings, and secure and place speakers with the various clubs.

It is planned to bring speagers of national prominence to Lincoln in January and February. It was announced Thursday morning by the chairman, who said that an effort would be made to get Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the National Federation of Women's clubs for a February date and Miss Ida Tarbell for January 16.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

No More Teeth Stains

Dark Teeth Bleached White —In Three Minutes

No matter how dull yellow or stained your teeth may be, you can now bleach away the most dingy discolorations, leaving the teeth clear, sparkling white and lustrous.

This is through a new scientific treatment called Bleachodent Combination. It consists of a mild harmless liquid which instantly curdles and breaks up the most hardened stain coats—and a new kind of paste which quickly and gently removes the softened stains, and prevents the formation of future stains. Just one application of this new safe treatment leaves teeth whiter and cleaner than when scoured for an hour with harsh, gritty pastes and powders. Bleachodent Combination cannot affect the enamel as it acts only on surface stains—not on the enamel itself. Simply brush teeth with a few drops of the mild liquid—then use the paste. Yellow dingy stains have vanished. And instead you have dashing white teeth that everyone will admire. Tobacco stains may be disappear after few applications. Bleachodent Combination is endorsed by dentists everywhere. Excellent for sore, tender bleeding gums. Especially recommended for children's teeth which stain easily. Get Bleachodent Combination today. Be sure and ask for Bleachodent Combination as this contains everything necessary to whiten teeth and keep teeth white. Only few cents at all good druggists such as Moore's Pharmacy, Hadley Drug, Miller's Pharmacy, Meier Drug Co., Piper Drug.—Advertisement.

WHY SLANDER ONE'S OWN COUNTRY?

If Senator Owen of Oklahoma is expecting to be a presidential candidate and making a bid in advance for the German vote, his speech in the senate declaring that the world war was brought on by Russia and France, and that Germany tried to prevent it, can be readily understood. That kind of talk would probably bring a good many votes in Milwaukee, St. Louis and Cincinnati.

But the senator's assertion is a direct affront to the intelligence of the American people. He might as well say that the United States was wrongly inveigled into the war and that our soldiers fought for an unjust cause. If Germany was an unoffending victim of her designing neighbors, then this country is an accomplice in a war of aggression directed against an innocent and peace-loving nation.

Presumably, also, Belgium was a party to this nefarious business. The Belgians should not have resisted when the kaiser started to take possession of their country and ordered them to furnish provender for his troops marching to attack France. Serbia, too, must bear part of the blame. When Austria-Hungary declared war and threw armies into her territory, Serbia should have welcomed the invaders instead of trying to repel them.

What infernal rot this is. What kind of an American is the man who stands up in the United States senate and attempts to befoul the part which his own country played in the world war?

The whole world knows that the war began when Austria-Hungary, backed up and egged on by the imperial German government, began its onslaught on Serbia, a second rate nation already exhausted in two previous wars and incapable of defending itself from the attack of a great military without the aid of powerful allies.

It knows that the Russian mobilization followed that of Austria, because Russia was obligated to protect the weaker Slav country. It knows that Germany at the time of prodding Austria-Hungary into action, was already organized, prepared and equipped for war. Indeed, the kaiser's war machine had been keyed up for instant service at any time, during a long period of training, and was universally recognized as the greatest military organization in the world. Even Theodore Roosevelt, several years before, had said, after witnessing the German military practice maneuvers, that the kaiser's army could "whip the world."

France was an ally of Russia, and under the terms of its treaty it began to mobilize its armies after Germany had started doing so. Germany then proceeded to attack France and Belgium. The French government had ordered all its troops back ten kilometers, or six and a quarter miles, from the German frontier, in order to avoid a clash as long as possible. Not until the Germans began their invasion of Belgium did France begin to move her troops.

Great Britain had held aloof all this time, and used its efforts to preserve peace. Documentary proof has been furnished that Germany turned down all the British efforts and insisted on Austria-Hungary going ahead with the war. The kaiser and his military aides believed the time had come for them to overturn Europe and annex what they wanted of it to the Teutonic empire.

If the Germans had been fighting defensively, as Senator Owen says, would they have launched their armies upon Brussels, Antwerp, and Paris at a time when the czar's forces were invading their own soil in East Prussia? Would they have violated Belgian neutrality in order to attack France on an unprotected frontier? Hardly.

France, Russia and the other allies "conspired" to put the odium of the war upon Germany, Owen avers. But all the conspiracies ever formulated would not have been able to do that if Germany, by her own conduct from beginning to end, had not proven herself the guilty aggressor in the eyes of the entire civilized world.

The American people are willing to forget the harsh and bitter enmities of wartime, and they stand ready even to help their late foes now sorely pressed by famine and economic distresses. But they are not willing that history should be perverted so as to blacken the nation's fame and disparage the memory of our soldiers who fell fighting under the Stars and Stripes.

THE BLOC SYSTEM.

The bloc, so called, is no new thing in American legislation, though its existence was apparently never noticed by the east until the farm bloc put in its appearance. From the time the constitution was adopted groups have been formed in Washington for the purpose of promoting and safeguarding special interests but until within the past few years these special interests were all centered in the east or the south.

There was the pro-slavery bloc, which for decades battled with but one objective in mind and there was the high tariff bloc, whose only thought was our "infant industris." It knew no prty and was able to assimilate an eastern democrat as it was a republican from that or any other section, as witness the case of Mr. Randall of Pennsylvania.

At present there is what might be termed the New York bloc, the chief object of which appears to be to look after the interests of the railroads and to prevent the west from securing any relief through the construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway or in any other manner. There is and has been an insistent demand from all that part of the country west of the Allegheny mountains for the development of water transportation; yet the movement has been blocked by this bloc and there is apparently no relief in sight.

Those easterners who are so bitterly railing at the west on account of its farm bloc, would do well to look at home. The western band may be made up of demagogues and scatter-brained theorists, as has been charged; they may be a menace to constitutional government and deserving of all the epithets that have been heaped upon them, but whatever may be said of them, it cannot be truthfully charged that they were the originators of the system now so loudly decried.

Surely a western bloc can be no more of a menace to the constitution than an eastern bloc. The same fundamental law covers, or is supposed to cover the entire land and it is entitled to as much respect along the seaboard as upon the prairie. It is no defense of the bloc system to say that it is no more wrong out west than it is down east. The eastern fellows did it first. It is contrary to the principles of good government in each instance.

PAGING THE FORD PROGRESSIVES.

The most important political development of the 1924 campaign is the Ford announcement that he would not be a candidate for the presidency under any condition against Calvin Coolidge. Mr. Ford disposes of the activities of restless groups, which have been endeavoring to stimulate sentiment in favor of the Detroit manufacturer by announcing that he is for President Coolidge because he shares the sentiments of a large number of the voters that the country is safe with Mr. Coolidge.

Jumping cats!

Here was Roy Harrop of Omaha, who admits that he is one of the most progressive of the progressives beating the tom toms for Mr. Ford. It made little difference what Mr. Ford's personal preferences might be. Mr. Harrop proposed to draft him so that progressive thought might find representation in the White House, and the forces of standpatism and conservatism would be unseated.

In about six words, Henry Ford disposes of all of the loose talk that Harrop and his associates have been circulating. Mr. Ford feels that it would be a most unfortunate thing for business if the campaign should add to the unrest and discontent with existing conditions. He feels that it is time to inaugurate an era of good feeling. There is a lot of truth in what Mr. Ford has to say, which any sane, sensible person will admit. At the same time the Ford endorsement of the Coolidge candidacy is the most natural development. Henry Ford is one of the world's greatest industrial chieftains, and the acknowledged leader in this country. He is one of America's greatest capitalists. All of his personal interests are admirably expressed by Mr. Coolidge.

Of course the next move is to page Mr. Harrop and his group of noisy and erratic associates. Next time they pick a candidate to lead America out of the wilderness, they, no doubt, will endeavor to "know their man."

NEBRASKA LEADS NATION.

Score again for Nebraska.

Compilations prepared and released by the department of commerce reveals this state had the lowest percentage of deaths, in 1922, due to tuberculosis, of any commonwealth in the nation. The highest adjusted rate of deaths from tuberculosis was 172.3 per 100,000 population in Colorado, but this should not be ascribed to any unhealthfulness of climate, but rather to the fact that its climate attracts thousands afflicted with the disease. The Nebraska figures show 36.1 for every 100,000 population.

In the nation 90,452 deaths from tuberculosis were reported, or a death rate of 97 for every 100,000 population. The continued progress which medical science is making in its battle against tuberculosis is shown by the fact that a year previous the death rate was 99 for every 100,000 population. Twelve states in the union showed increases while 22 states reported decreases. Nebraska is one of those states showing a steady decline in the number of deaths resulting from tuberculosis. In 1922 the record shows 483 as against 487 in 1921 and 561 in 1920.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS.

At best it is a rather half-hearted regret we feel over the prospects of a snowless Christmas. Snow adds beauty to the holiday season but it adds work to the average day and holes in the coal pile and it is not at all an unmixed blessing. A white Christmas is to be welcomed if it comes but not to be prayed for as a necessary adjunct to an enjoyable Christmas.

Numerous little customs are growing to have much significance in the Yuletime observance. The window and door wreath are not new, the burning candle in the many city windows is a little more recent in adaption while the electrical tree lighting of growing trees in our lawns and gardens is an idea of only a few years standing.

Christmas carols, lighted trees, cheery windows and multiple Christmas cards, these things we notice more year after year. Snow might help the setting but Christmas will be Christmas in spite of weather or temperature.

MAKING AND BREAKING LAWS.

Collier's Magazine comments editorially upon the fact that there is a no tipping law in effect in Tennessee but that it is neither obeyed nor respected, that gratuities are expected in that state as much or more than in other states and that so far as a remedy for the admitted evil, the law has been or no avail.

Which reminds us again that the same thing is distressingly true of our social organizations as well as of our political units. We calmly vote for rules that prohibit drinking, gambling or tipping or some other questionable practice in our clubs and businesses and then we proceed just as calmly to violate the rules we have made. It is an almost universal practice. Yet every new organization that is formed discusses the same matters, decides that same way and then does the same things.

Collier's comments: "How much more ingenious we are at breaking laws than in making and enforcing them."

If the congressmen would put forth as much energy in settling the affairs of the nation as they do in their own affairs they might be considered a bit more seriously.

In a rough estimate of working days of the sixty-eighth congress it has thus far cost the nation $329,280 to elect the speaker and a few committeemen.

The originators of Christmas gifts may have been the three Wise Men but a good many modern husbands feel that they could hand them some good advice.

"Republicans Select Cleveland," the headline said. Times have changed. A generation ago, that name possessed no allurements for the g. o. p.

More Truth Than Poetry

Dear S. E. K.: There is a man I am very much in love with, and I feel sure he loves me. Should I let him know how I feel, or is it best to seem cool and unconcerned until he tells me of his love. MARIE.

I've come through many love affairs—
This just between ourselves, Marie—
And I've been caught sometimes in snares
That cunningly were set for me;
Considering my practice, I
Perhaps should be a wise old bird,
But why, fair maiden, tell me, why
Ask me to pass the fateful word?

I've never met a lady yet
Who failed, in time, to find the way
To make the man she wished to get
Say things she wanted him to say.
I fear there is not any rule
That always fittingly applies;
I've loved them when I thought them cool,
And I have loved them otherwise.

If I were he within whose arms
You have a longing to be crushed
I might forget your many charms
If too impulsively you gushed;
Yet, on the other hand, Marie,
If you assumed a frosty air,
I'll not deny that presently
I might learn how to cease to care.

I'm but an ordinary man,
Affected much by praise or blame,
And cannot give you any plan
Except this old one—play the game;
Perhaps his wisdom teeth are cut.
He may be quick or slow to see;
Sweet ardor might repel him but
I'm picking you to win, Marie.

The Letter Carrier.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 19.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star:

The holidays are upon us, and as Christmas draws near we patiently watch and wait for the postman. At any other time of the year, he is barely given a thought, but at Christmas time, he is given a most hearty welcome, for many are the hearts that are made glad at this time. But do we ever stop to think as to how the poor postman will fare? Trudging along day after day with his heavy load, through all kinds of weather, striving for all that is in him to serve his patrons in the best possible manner.

Poorly paid as they are, the letter carriers have been very modest in their requests for salary increases. In fact they have been modest to a fault. They have never asked, nor do they now ask, for anything more than a salary increase to meet the the increase in the cost of life's necessities.

"Every man is rich or poor according to the degree in which he can afford to enjoy the necessaries, conveniences, and amusements of human life. If it is true, and all are agreed that it is, that a man is rich or poor in this degree, then we must also come to the conclusion that the measure in which a man can enjoy the necessaries, conveniences, and amusements of human life is determined by the purchasing power of his dollar, and not, surely, by the number of dollars he receives. Intrinsically, a dollar is worth nothing; it is nothing but a medium of exchange; in commerce a dollar is worth what others will exchange for it in necessaries, conveineces, and amusements. Its value, then, is determined by its purchasing power, and its purchasing power is determined by the value which is placed upon the things sought in exchange for the dollar. As a single outstanding instance of the truth a man's wages cannot safely be determined by the number of dollars he receives, but must rather be determined by the purchasing power of the dollar he receives. Let us take a ton of coal. In 1907, a ton cost about seven dollars, and in 1907 a letter carrier in the maximum grade received $1,200 a year. Now if the yearly salary in 1907 had been granted as a result of scientifically deducted facts, ascertained after the purchasing power of the dollar had been determined, and taking a ton of coal as a criterion, it was seen that a yearly salary would buy a letter carrier all the necessaries, conveniences, and amusements of human life that he was entitled to by his place in society, would read who believed that wages could be measured by the number rather than the value of a dollar to conclude that a letter carrier was fifty per cent better off in 1923, than the same letter carrier received the maximum salary of $1,800 a year.

When we look farther and find that now a ton of coal costs approximately $14, we see that instead of being fifty per cent better off, the letter carrier is just fifty per cent short of the real purchasing power wage of 1907. This is simply one striking illustration of the great decrease in the value of a dollar. It is an illustration, however, which will upon investigation be found to hold good in nearly every instance when a man goes out into market to purchase the necessaries, conveniences, and amusements of human life.

If the letter carriers, just know that the people of Lincoln were in sympathy with them and would use their influence in getting some legislation by our present congress, that would give the carriers a living wage, I am sure they would rejoice with the general public in a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

W. D. SHEAR.

Peace: To Men of Goodwill.

STRATTON, Neb., Dec. 20—To the Editor of he Lincoln Star: Enclosed please find a poem for publication:

'Twas years ago the angel song,
Broke forth at Jesus' birth;
In joyful notes its promise came,
Of "Peace o'er all the earth."
Yet we are slow to learn it,
We rope and stumble our way;
But men of goodwill alone can bring peace,

And with it the brighter day.
So 'mid strivings of the nations,
For places in the sun;
'Mid the building of the warships,
And the making of the gun;
'Mid the groaning of the people,
Crushed beneath the tyrant's heel;
'Mid the crying of the children,
Who count days between each meal
'Mid the discord and confusion,
In the world's industrial life;
'Mid the sharpness of the conflict,
In the keen political strife;
'Mid the many factors in the home,
That take away its force—
Out of all this peace can come,
If we'll only find its source.
Let us listen once again,
As the angels sing their song;
Let us learn the message over,
As life's duties round us throng.
Here's the message that they gave us,
Heralding him who would fulfill—
Peace will come on earth when men
Seek, find, and use—Goodwill.

A married man can always tell a bachelor—but he can't make him believe it.

It isn't neutrality at all unless it is absolute, and then it is indifference.

Dairy Cows.

(Nebraska City Press.)

Many Nebraska communities through their chambers of commerce and other civic organizations, are distributing dairy cows to farmers of the territory served by the associations.

The plan seems to have started at Aurora, Neb., by the chamber of commerce. Recently it has been augmented and elaborated, and other towns are carrying on.

Dairying is a part of diversified farming. Wise agricultural men realize that it pays well. Wisconsin and Minnesota have never felt the pinch of "hard times" because the cows and the hen have been steadily on the job, with a good market for their products.

It would be a worthy job, for Nebraska City's Chamber of Commerce to inaugurate some scheme in this community resulting in encouraging a business which means prosperity and happiness for those who engage in it, in connection with their "grain farming."

Has 'Em In a Hole.

(Bloomington Advocate-Tribune.)

Gov. Bryan has the republicans in this state in the hole for campaign purposes in the decision of the supreme court that the deficit on roads cannot be paid out of the 1923 appropriation. The governor has all of his old pledges to talk about, for the republican legislature failed to put him in the hole. Sam McKelvie has done more harm to the party than can be remedied in years to come.

A Just Verdict.

(Grand Island Independent.)

Justice reigns at Seward. The whole state will acclaim the action of that jury which freed all three of the members o the Vajgret family from the charges of the willful, felonious, malicious slaying of the admitted despoiler of the daughter in the case. Only one ballot was taken by the twelve, a fact all the more gratifying. It is a case, moreover, of more prompt adjudication and justice than usual.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

The Permanent Marriage.

Dear Minerva, I have been married five years and my happiness has gone to the rocks. It has so come that my relationship with my husband is all sham and hypocrisy, that I go on pretending day after day that I love him when in reality I have no longer any love for him.

It is not that he has been cruel or unfaithful to me in any way. But that he has just thoroughly disappointed me. I am not greedy for riches or social position. But the men in my family have all been business successes and I cannot respect a man who is not. It seems that everything my husband touches fails. He says I am cold and lacking in sympathy, but can only love a man who is big and powerful and strong in every way.

Now Minerva, do you not consider it a matter of honor to terminate my marriage with this man who has ceased to be my true love? I have talked of divorce to my parents. My father says with disgust that I would be deserting a sinking ship. My mother says there have been no divorces in our family, and she does not want me to sully that record.

But I say that I must live my own life, that standards have changed, and that since love for my husband has left me that it is only honest for me to ask for a divorce. I would however, like to have your opinion. There are no children.—MATILDA.

A. An old-fashioned name for an ultra-modern girl.

I cannot share your belief that it is more honorable to dissolve a marriage contract because some disappointment and disillusionment have been suffered. On the other hand I believe it is the rare marriage indeed where disappointments are not experienced.

It would only be the super-man married to the super-woman who would stand a chance of holding to their marriage vows if disenchantment might be honorably given as a cause for divorce. Any two persons who have been reared in different families have difficulties in adjusting their lives to each other in the intimacies of marriage. But doesn't marriage means just this? That a man and woman love each other so much that they are willing to make the effort to overlook and condone the faults of each because of that love?

True marriage is built with a knowledge of human frailties, an expectation of some disappointment a willingness to endure, to amend to change, to adapt, to grow together, to forgive what cannot be improved, not to shirk responsibilities and parenthood, to regard the marriage and home as permanent institutions to be defended against dangers because the marriage vows holds each for life, for richer or poorer, for better or worse, in sickness and in health, until death doth part.

Colds And Babies.

Dear Minerva: My 18-months-old baby has caught a bad cold and I would like to know what to do about it. It seems to hang on so. And particularly I want to know if I do wrong to keep her windows open nights. My mother-in-law says I should not expose her to the night air. But I have always kept her windows open and this is her first cold. And I have been taught that fresh air is vitally necessary.

I want to protect her from colds and I think the baby probably got it from us.—Inexperienced Mother.

A. More than likely the baby did catch its cold from some member of the family. A wise precaution for adults afflicated with colds is to put several thicknesses of gauze over their nose and mouth when going near the children.

The night air certainly does not harm the baby. The old idea that night air was harmful came from localities where they had malaria and mosquitoes which carried the organisms of malaria were more likely to come at night. And in those days they did not know that it was the mosquito and not the air that carried the disease.

However protect the baby from drafts. Have the baby's daddy make a small frame covered with four or five thicknesses of cheesecloth and when you raise the window slip that frame under it.

While the baby has a cold, discontinue the tub baths for a while and give her sponge baths by the fire. Swab out her nose with a little absorbent cotton on a toothpick and then put a drop or two of some oily antiseptic solution in the nose. A good oil for the baby is made of thirty drops of eucalyptus, fifteen grains camphor, ten grains menthol, and four ounces liquid petroleum. Put a drop of this with medicine dropper in the baby's nose two or three times a day.

Be careful not to allow the baby to sit on the floor where there is a draft.

BRITAIN WILLING TO JOIN PARLEY

Favors Discussion Of Submarine and Airplane Disarmament.

MacDonald, Possible Baldwin Successor, Reported In Sympathy.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Great Britain is willing to participate in an international conference for submarine and airplane disarmament if President Coolidge of the United States summons it, according to foreign office officials today.

It was pointed out that Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party, may succeed Stanley Baldwin as premier and MacDonald is known to be in sympathy with any movement for disarmament.

So far the foreign office has not received any definite information about the reported conference except what was conveyed in press dispatches from Washington.

It was reported in official circles that unofficial negotiations are in progress between representatives of soviet Russia and MacDonald relative to recognition of the Moscow government.

REPORTS DISCOVERY.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Dec. 20.—Dr. David Todd, formerly director of the Amherst college observatory, repoted today his discovery of a new sun spot engulfed in a cyclonic area, the diameter of which would stretch twice around the earth. The spot, he said, was near the eastern edge of the sun.

Lawn Mower to Be Christmas Gift Of Sioux City Man

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Dec. 20.—Some Sioux City man is going to wake up Christmas morning and find a new grass trimmer in his Christmas stocking. A Sioux City housewife created considerable excitement in the hardware department of one of the leading department stores this week by asking to see one of the latest models. While waiting to have the article wrapped she confided to the salesman that the mower was destined as a Christmas gift for "hubby."

CUBAN WORKERS STRIKE

HAVANA, Dec. 20.—The long threatened strike of workers on the Cuba railroad became a memebr of the employes walked out. Government officials assert the strike has not become general as many of the employes are awaiting the arrival of of the secretary of labor, who is to make a final effort to settle the points in dispute between the company and its men.

GREEK REPUBLIC BEING PLANNED

Important Group Army Officers Preparing Proclamation, Paris Reports.

Athens Dispatches, However, Assert King's Departure Only Provisional.

PARIS, Dec. 20—An important group of Greek army officers are preparing a proclamation of a Greek republic, said a dispatch to the foreign office this afternoon.

The dispatch said they desired the republic to be an accomplished fact before the national assembly meets.

Absence Temporary.

ATHENS, Dec. 20.—The Greek government today assured the foreign legations that the departure of King George II was only provisional.

The foreign diplomats were informed that the national assembly will soon meet to discuss the future status of the Greek government.

King George and Queen Elizabeth departed from Piraeus for Kusten, Roumania, late Wednesday afternoon on the Greek ship Daphne.

Premier Gonatas and M Djuvar, the Roumanian minister, bade farewell to the royal couple. The attendants wept while Queen Elizabeth smilingly covered her face. The king was down hearted.

Admiral Koundouriotis was to be sworn in as regent this afternoon.

Departure of the sovereigns took place without any untoward incident. It is generally believed King George will continue to live abroad indefinitely unless he returns as a private citizen.

King George, before leaving, received all the foreign diplomats.

A twenty-one gun salute was fired as the Daphne left Piraeus.

Smugglers Receive $20 to $40 For Bringing Aliens Across Line

(Associated Press)

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Twenty to forty dollars per head is the fare smugglers receive along the Niagara Falls frontier from aliens seeking illegal entrance into the United States.

Business was said to be brisk. Hundreds of aliens, stranded in Canada with the filling of the American immigration quotas, are willing to pay in advance for passage. The transaction is equally profitable for the smuggler, regardless of his success or failure in penetrating the custom lines. He gives no refund when his charges are caught.

At Youngstown, on the lower river, where the smugglers' hazards are increased by the proximity of Fort Niagara and the coast guard station, the quoted price on good authority, is $40. At Lewiston, farther up the river, it drops to $20.

Passage over the international bridge is sold at an average price of $25. Immigration authorities cite numerous instances in which aliens have paid that sum in advance only to be turned back or taken into custody.

WILL NOT RETURN FREMONT ELOPERS

Brothers Decide Not to Prosecute Mother Who Fled With Cash.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 20.—John and Joe Crogalla decided not to prosecute their mother and therefore Mrs. Crogalla and her lover, Ade Chade, who eloped two weeks ago, taking along, it was alleged, $2,000 in money held in trust by Mrs. Crogalla for her sons will not be brought back to Fremont for trial.

Sheriff W. C. Condit pursued the fleeting couple and captured them at San Antonio, Tex. Delay in securing release of the couple to the Nebraska authorities by extradition proceedings at San Antonio, caused the Nebraska sheriff to return. He received word by telegraph yesterday that the courts had sustained the proceedings and that Chade and Corgalla would be held awaiting his arrival.

In the meantime the Corgalla brothers called upon the county attorney and announced that they would not prosecute their mother. County Attorney Gumb refused to proceed against Chade if the case against the woman was dropped and therefore the two brothers decided to withdraw their complaint. The Corgallas arranged to pay the expenses of the trip of Sheriff Condit to San Antonio.

Slander Charged By Snyder Couple; Sue For Damages

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 20.—A demand for retraction of the statements and a restraining order to prevent repetition of them in the future, accompanied a suit for damages of $25,000 filed in the district court Wednesday by Ernest Metschke and wife against Mrs. Lena Veltmeler. All of the parties concerned are said to be well-to-do residents near Snyder, in the north part of Dodge county.

Allegation is made in the petition that slanderous stories have been circulated by the defendant and that she had attributed them as originating with Rev. Carl Hoffman of St. Peter's Lutheran parish at Snyder. The complainants say that the Rev. Mr. Hoffman has denied that he made the alleged statements.

Fremont to Have A Municipal Tree

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 20.—Fremont's municipal Christmas tree program will be carried out at 7 o'clock on the evening on Christmas day. A band of six buglers is to furnish the opening number, which is to be followed by a program of songs by sixty-four carol singers in uniforms and solo numbers by Fremont vocalists and by Francis Nadigan, Omaha boy soloist. The closing part of the program will be given by the Fremont band.

The Fremont tree was erected at the park yesterday and was lighted for the first time last night. Will Bowler has charge of the municipal Christmas tree celebration, which will be the first of its kind ever held there.

Jurist Fixes Dates For Terms of Court

(Special to The Star.)

ALBION, Neb., Dec. 20—Judge Lighter was here Monday and Tuesday holding an adjourned term of district court. As no jury was in attendance only equity matters were considered. While here the judge gave out the following official schedule of terms for the Sixth judicial district:

Colfax, Feb. 23, June 2, Nov. 10.
Dodge, Jan. 14, Apr. 28, Sept. 22.
Merrick, Feb. 13 May 20, Oct. 20.
Nance, Feb 25, June 2, Nov 10.
Platte, Jan. 14, Apr. 28, Sept. 22.

Lost Gem Found Through Medium Of Girl's Dream

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Dec. 20—A girl's dream recovered a valuable diamond ring lost for more than a week, for A. C. Lantz here one day this week.

Lantz lost the ring some time ago and, after the united efforts of himself and the police had failed to find it, had given up hope of ever recovering the gem.

A neighbor's daughter, hearing of Lantz' loss, thought much about his misfortune and one evening dreamed the stone was in a closet in the Lantz home. Telling Mrs. Lantz the story of the dream the next day, a search was started and the diamond found among a lot of tools just as described by the girl. The stone was said to be worth $500.

Hurt When Clothes Caught By Shafting

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRCE, Neb., Dec. 20.—F. W. Elliott, 60, sustained a broken leg and severe gashes and bruises about the head when his clothing caught on a shafting at the Farmers' elevator here. He was carried over the shaft several times. E. P. Smith, manager, shut off the power in time to save his life.

Buffalo County to Have Poultry Show

KEARNEY, Neb., Dec. 20—Plans are being made for the holding of a poultry and pet stock show here before the end of the winter. A call has been sent out by County Agent J. E. Ludden to persons interested in such a project to meet at the chamber of commerce Saturday to begin the draft of plans for the show and for the appointment of committees to work out the details.

City Council At Kearney In Fight With Gas Company

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Dec. 20—The Kearney city council has declared war on the gas and power company. Bills presented by the latter for service to the city were held up at a meeting Tuesday night. The electric current bill was turned over to an auditing committee for investigation and recommendation. The gas bill was allowed at the franchise rate, after considerable debate.

The council alleges the gas company is charging a rate fifty cents in excess of that fixed by the franchise, while the electric rate is alleged to be two cents per kilowat higher than the cost at which power is furnished other points. It is further found by tests, according to information filed with the council, that the local gas contains only about 340 heat units as compared to a standard of 60 heat units. However, the franchise only requires "good gas" be furnished.

Platte Supervisor Called By Death

(Special to The Star.)

COLUMBUS, Neb., Dec. 20 — Charles A. Peterson, chairman of the Platte county board of supervisors for a number of years, and for twelve years a member of the board, died Tuesday at his home in Newman Grove. Funeral services will be held Thursday and burial will be in Salem Lutheran cemetery. Rev. Runquist will have charge. Mr. Peterson leaves his widow and a son and daughter.

Born in Oland Kalmer Lan, Sweden, Mr. Peterson came to the United States in 1880, and with his parents came direct to Columbus. He had been a resident of the county ever since.

Howard Named By Horticulturists

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 20 — A permanent organization to be known as the central states horticultural exposition was formed here Wednesday at a conference of horticulturists from Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

T. J. Talbert of the University of Missouri, Columbia, was elected president, and R. F. Howard of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, vice president.

State's Champion Judging Team to Give Demonstration

A live stock judging demonstration by Nebraska's champion judging team which represented the state at the International Livestock show at Chicago recently, will feature the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the chamber of commerce Friday noon.

"The Beginning of Life Insurance in Lincoln and the Middle West," will be the subject used by Kiwanian N. Z. Snell in addressing the club Friday as the principal speaker at the luncheon.

According to Secretary Watson, eight directors for the coming year will be elected Friday. From the directorate the executive officers for the year will be chosen.

Archie Jones will lead in community singing. A number of songs appropriate to the Christmas season will be on the musical program.

WOMAN HIT BY POLICE MACHINE

Miss Carrie J. Leland Injured In Accident Near Eleventh and G.

Miss Carrie J. Leland, 63, 920 H street, suffered body bruises and a bad cut over one eye when she was struck Wednesday evening by a motorcycle under control of Speed Officer Major Gross, near Eleventh and G streets.

The officer was following a speeder just after the fire department had passed going north when Miss Leland stepped from the curb. The officer was unable to see her until nearly upon her, and it is thought she could not see the motorcycle.

She was carried in to a store and later taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where reports Thursday morning indicated her condition to be improved. She also suffered a sprained ankle and a sprained thumb.

Says Justice Was Quality Stressed In Military Court

No serious objection to the justice, mercy or procedure of any court martial in the Fifth division during the World war can be made, declared Judge James P. Cosgrave, who was the judge advocate of that organization during the war, at a monthly dinner meeting of the Lancaster Reserve Officers association at the Grand hotel Wednesday evening.

Judge Cosgrave's subject was the duties of a division judge advocate, but he spoke also of some of his experiences in France.

No civilian courts give more justice than did the military courts, he declared. Some drastic measures had to be used to preserve order in a warring army, but justice was always a quality for which the American courts were noted.

He urged that the army officers live up to the standards of their service, interpret laws justly when they were forced to make such decisions, and stand as the first patriots of the country, as well as its first fighters.

News Briefs From the Entire World

DETROIT, Mich.—Miss Marjorie Callahan, 31 years old, admitted here Wednesday police said, that she planned the robbery of the Tuxedo bank at Indianapolis on November 23, when $9,000 was obtained. She is quoted as saying she received 10 per cent of the loot for her part in the planning of the holdup.

DENVER AFFRAYS TAKE FOUR LIVES

Three Women And One Man Dead Following Shootings Wednesday.

Police Seek Husband Alleged To Have Slain Wife And Sister-In-Law.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 20.—Three women and one man are dead and another man is sought by police as the result of shooting affrays here yesterday afternoon and last night. Mrs. Ada Furnice, 32 years old, was shot to death last night in the back yard of her father's home. Police are searching for her husband, Horace D. Furnice, from whom she had been separated.

Neighbors declared, according to the police, that Furnice appeared suddenly at the gate while his wife was working in the yard and after a few words fired point blank at her and then ran down the alley.

William O'Mailia in the afternoon shot and killed his wife Carrie and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Flora Hansford, and then fired a fatal shot into his own head.

The shooting took place in Mrs. O'Mailia's apartment in the presence of O'Mailia's three children, Bessie Pearl, 7; Thelma Marie, 4; and Harry Norman, 18 months.

Mrs. O'Mailia and her husband had been separated. O'Mailia, according to authorities, had a long police record and had been released in November after serving a term of sixty days in the county jail.

SCOUT LEADERS BANQUET GUESTS

Matson Gives Principal Talk At Dinner At University Club.

Sixty scoutmasters and assistant scout masters from Lincoln troops were entertained by members of the Lincoln Boy Scout council at a dinner meeting Wednesday evening in the University club. Songs, a chalk talk, and several addresses made up the program of the evening.

Charles E. Matson, county attorney, gave the principal talk of the evening on "The Court Movement." He emphasized the importance of scout work, and praised scout leaders for the part they have played in the promotion of the work in Lincoln.

Discipline, said Mr. Matson, is the whole problem of law enforcement, and scout troops enforce beneficial discipline. General public opinion, also, is molded by the scout movement by means of the scouts' influence with their parents. Both this kind of discipline and type of public opinion produced by a troop is due directly to the scout master. His voluntary services are thus among the most important being given today.

Dr. A. H. Webb spoke as one of the scout masters. He explained some of his problems, urging that the council help to lessen the evil of trying to have scouts do too much. He cautioned his fellow leaders that to lose their enthusiasm is to lose their usefulness.

President Willard S. Yates of the boy scout council spoke a few opening words, and introduced Prof. E. H. Barbour, toastmaster. Each scoutmaster and assistant present was then introduced.

Roy Wall, accompanied by William Hart, sang several groups of songs.

Oz Black, cartoonist, gave a chalk talk on scouting. Among the portraits of men well known in local scout work which he drew were those of J. L. McMaster, E. H. Barbour, Dr. A. H. Webb, A. S. Dougall, W. J. Kent and Willard Yates.

A. S. Dougall, at the close of the program, spoke a few words in appreciation of the work done by the scoutmasters and their assistants.

Working Process Is Demonstrated By Math Wizard

George B. Wood, "human adding machine" and mayor of Louisville, Neb., solved long problems in addition, division and subtraction in fractions of seconds Wednesday evening before a large audience at Social Science hall. The lecture was under the auspices of the University Math club.

The process of his calculation is almost mechanical, he claimed.

"The speed with which most people calculate is that of their tongue," Mr. Wood declared. While a child is saying over a multiplication table, he would be able to think it through about four times.

Addition and its variation, multiplication, are the only two processes which Mr. Wood said that he used in solving problems. Subtraction, as it is usually taught, he characterized as "crawfishing," and division as but little better.

ALASKA TO HAVE AIR MAIL SERVICE

Postoffice Department Plans Experiment Between Fairbanks and Nenana.

Delivery Time Will Be Cut From Twenty Days To About Four Hours.

(Associated Press.)

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 20—Plans for airplane mail service from the terminus of the government railway at Nenana, Alaska, to Fairbanks, are being made by the postoffice department, it was said here tonight, Warren C. Vandervoort, superintendent of the rail mail service for the Pacific Northwest. The service, replacing dog teams and railway delivery, will reduce the time of delivery from twenty days to four hours, he said.

The postoffice department is negotiating with a pilot to take charge of the service. Mr. Vandervoort said. The plane will be flown from Chicago to Seattle early in January and dismantled there for shipment to Nenana. Service will begin as soon after its arrival there as it can be reassembled and put into service.

The service over a distance of about 250 miles, is in the nature of an experiment but it is expected to develop it into regular service

GREB GIVEN TO TALKING HABIT

Smoky City Scrapper Pulls Trick Of Gabbling; Then Takes It IAI Back.

BY FRANK G. MENKE.

(Copyright 1923 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—This situation has developed in pugdom:

Either Harry Greb is a two-time liar—or two sport writers of heretofore unchallenged integrity have been guilty of misquoting the middleweight champion.

Here are the facts:

Some months ago Charles Doyle, a Pittsburgh sport writer, printed an interview with Greb, who had just drifted into Pittsburgh after a visit to New York.

Greb, in that interview, was quoted as saying that certain sport writers in New York had demanded thousands of dollars from him, upon the threat that if he didn't "come across" they would make it more or less impossible for him to do any further fighting in New York.

Immediately afterward, George Daley, sports editor of the Morning World and one of the finest and cleanest newspaper men in America, wired Greb, asking him whether the interview was correct.

Greb wired back denying the interview—thus classifying Doyle, a man of unimpeachable reputation, as being a faker.

When Daley hurled his telegram at Greb, the Pittsburgh fighter realized he was in this position:

(1)—If he denied the interview he could square himself with the indignant New York writers and thus be sure of getting more fights in New York—and would lose only the friendship of Doyle.

(2)—If he admitted the statements, Doyle's reputation would be upheld—but Greb might find it impossible to pursue future fistic occupation in New York, because the writers there perhaps would not support any bouts in which he participated.

Then came Greb's most recent fight with Gene Tunney—Dec. 10 in New York. The officials ruled in favor of Tunney.

Took Rap at Commission.

The next day the Evening World carried a story, written by Ed Van Every, in which Greb was quoted as follows.

"Tunney never hurt me, I was the aggressor in every round and outscored him all the way. What more do they want? The whole thing in a nutshell: is that Tunney is in right with certain members of the boxing commission; the judges were fixed and Tunney couldn't lose. I think raw decisions of this kind will help kill boxing in this state, and I only hope it does. Rickard tried to tie me up to a match for the middleweight title with Johnny Wilson before the fight. I am glad I didn't sign and give them a chance to rob me of that title too. I am through with this state. I will never give them a chance to steal my title here so long as I am champion."

Grebs Eats His Words.

A few days later, Greb was called into a conference with Tex Rickard, who is eager to match Greb and Johnny Wilson in another middleweight encounter. It was an absolute certainty that no such fight could be staged if the remarks credited to Greb were permitted to stand.

So, after the session with Rickard, the fighter from Pittsburgh sent a letter to the newspapers which read, in part:

"I take this opportunity to deny the rumor which is going around town that I made certain accusations against the judges who acted at my fight with Gene Tunney Dec. 10. While I personally thought I won, the majority thought I lost, and I abide by their decision."

It will be noticed that Greb did not specifically deny saying the things which Van Every quoted to him; that he merely denied "the rumor which is going around." But, by inference, Greb places Van Every, a reliable, reputable newspaperman, in the "misquoter" class.

Habit of Talking Wildly.

Those who know Greb regard him as a youngster given to making pop-eyed statements in moments of anger and fretfulness; of making accusations and later denying them, especially when he finds that failure to deny might null his power to earn money in the prize rings of New York.

Those who know Doyle and Van Every know them as men of honesty and of conscience, and as men who would rather quit their jobs than to commit the newspaper crime of deliberately misquoting any living man.

Therefore—do you think that Greb ACTUALLY said what Doyle and Van Every credited to him—or do you think that BOTH writers imagined the statements?

Alma High Players Guests At Banquet

ALMA, Neb., Dec. 20.—Superintendent John F. Showalter and Coach Louis Schieferdecker entertained the members of the Alma high school football squad at a banquet Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for twenty-three. The domestic science girls, under the direction of Miss Slick, prepared and served the menu of four courses. Short talks were given by all the boys present, with Superintendent Showalter acting as toastmaster. Coach Schieferdecker was presented with a handsome cardinal sweater as a token of appreciation from the members of the squad. Charles Hoffman was elected captain for next year. Table and other decorations were in cardinal and white. Subjects of toasts were cleverly arranged so that the first letter of the toasts spelled "Alma Football Squad."

Sport Briefs.

ST. PAUL—The ten-round bout scheduled to be held December 21 between Morrie Schlaifer of Omaha and Jimmy Jones of Youngstown, O., was postponed until January 25, because of Schlaifer's physical condition.

AMES, Ia.—A bronze plate, on which is inscribed his last letter, has been placed in the gymnasium at Iowa State college by athletic letter men in honor of Jack Trice, star negro tackle, on last year's football team, who died as the result of injuries received in the game with with Minnesota last fall. An honor "A," awarded by the athletic council, was sent to his mother in Ravenna, O.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—President Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn National league club, really wanted Roger Hornsby at the record breaking figure of $175,000, he said here. He declared that ordinarily he did not believe in paying high amounts for players, as it tended to hurt the game.

NEW YORK.—Ad Stone, promising Philadelphia light-heavyweight, may get a chance to box Gene Tunney for the American 175-pound title if he succeeds in defeating Billy Shade of California tomorrow night in their 15-round match at Madison Square Garden.

CHICAGO—The University of Chicago football schedule for 1924 was completed last night with the signing of Brown university for a game to be played at Stagg field October 11. This gives Chicago two intersectional contests and seven games at home. Missouri, one of the leading teams of the Missouri Valley conference, will meet the Maroons here October 4.

WATERWAY ROUTE REPORT IS BRIGHT

Backers Of Lakes-To-The-Ocean Waterway Are Very Optimistic.

Statement Asserts Majority In Congress "Impatient to Act."

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—A report featured by optimistic predictions of success in developments leading to a lakes-to-the-ocean waterway was submitted today at the council of states of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater association by Charles P. Craig, its executive director.

Mr. Craig, in his report declared that proponents of the water way project were assured that a majority in both houses of congress is "impatient to act favorably upon suitable measures." He said the administration in Washington "is firmly committed" to the undertaking, that favorable action in Canada is promised and that public opinion is consolidating.

Coolidge Endorses.

"President Coolidge in his message to congress endorsed the development of the great power and navigation project of the St. Lawrence river as a reproductive investment distinguished from public expenditure," the report stated. "He placed chief emphasis upon cheap freight by bringing ocean-going ships to the Great lakes. He has renewed the invitation to Canada to meet for discussion of appropriate terms."

Two suggestions for financing the proposed deep waterway have come from Canada, the report said. One would provide that the work be divided so that the cost between the two countries would be approximately equal. The other would provide that in lieu of participation of this country in work that lies in Canada, the United States should join with Canada in underwriting the bonds.

Red Cross Pantry At Hastings Filled By Business Women

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 20.—Dozens of cans of fruit, pork and beans, peas, tomatoes, sacks of rice, navy beans, coffee, sugar, flour, packages of oatmeal and other breakfast foods, have replenished the Red Cross cupboard through the generosity of the members of the Business and Professional Women's club. The members piled their presents around the base of two Christmas trees. A verse intended for the business woman whose name had been drawn by the writer of the verse, at a previous meeting, was on each article. Santa Claus distributed the gifts. They were carried to the Red Cross community house after the party.

TO FREE SUSPECT.

NOW YOU CAN END RHEUMATIC PAINS

German Chemistry Achieves Another Triumph

Nothing is so important in medical practice as the conquest and elimination of pain. For many years German scientists have specialized on this subject, producing many of the most important medical discoveries of the age, among which are Aspirin for the relief of headache pain and Novocain for painless dentistry. Now, from the same source comes Buhler Oil for Rheumatic pain, a scientific formula that penetrates the skin and tissues rapidly, soothing the pain almost instantly, and in a few minutes produces that comfortable feeling that means so much to sufferers.

Knowing that rheumatic pains must have a definite cause, these German chemists persisted in their experiments, finally arriving at the conclusion that toxic poisoning from clogged intestines was transmitted through the blood to joints and muscles causing inflammation. After that it was a problem of finding the right combination of materials to counteract and quickly end the pain.

Buhler Oil has been used by an immense number of people with almost universal success. Many stubborn, long-standing cases have responded quickly to this remarkable lubricant. So astonishing have been the results and so universal the praise accorded Buhler Oil by users that local druggists are glad to endorse it and will cheerfully refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied. Buhler Oil is for sale in this city by O. E. Rector, Harley Drug Co., Piller's Pharmacy, Guy Butler, Terminal Drug Store.—Advertisement

Thirty Grid Games On Intersectional Slates Next Fall

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—With about thirty intersectional games already scheduled and others in prospect, the 1924 gridiron season promises to furnish unusual opportunity to compare the relative football strength of the various sections.

Notre Dame and the Army lead the list. Including their own annual battle, to be held in New York, each has four intersectional games booked

Railroads, Like Father and Mother, are Taken for Granted

THE children come home from school—One goes to Mother, to have a sore finger wrapped up. They eat their evening meal. Father helps with the lessons. They go to bed and sleep—taking it all for granted. Something happens to Father or Mother .....then.....the children realize.....

A thousand miles away, you board a train. Tomorrow you are home. It took your great-grandfathers several weeks to make the same trip. At meal-time they stopped and built a fire. At meal-time you step into a first-class restaurant on wheels. The coffee, the sugar and spices, the fruits, even the bread and meat, have been carried to you by the railroads.

Night comes, and the covered wagon that stopped to let the horses rest, has been replaced by the Pullman and 60 miles an hour. Nothing to do but slip between the sheets, and ring for the porter if anything is wanted—taking it all for granted. The railroads are not like Father and Mother—transportation service must go on.....nothing happens.....so you do not realize.....

Night and day, rain or shine, winter and summer, thousands of men and women of the Rock Island Lines are "on the job"—that you may be served—that you and your friends may reach home in safety—that your daily supplies may reach your door. Railway service is the most vital thing in your daily life.

Our interests are mutual—helpful suggestions are appreciated.

Wills In Line for Whirl at Dempsey; Huskers Close Their Book

BUILDING WILLS FOR TITLE FIGHT

Smokeup Detected In Plan to Pit Husky Black Man Against Madden.

Gotham Suddenly Willing to Stand For Waiver of the Color Line.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Behind the project to match Harry Wills and Bartley Madden at Madison Square Garden, practical boxing minds are pleased to note a studied gesture toward the establishment of a precedent that will make possible a Dempsey-Wills bout later. This altogether worthy enterprise is now taboo in Manhattan rings by tacit and unspoken agreement, the rich sepia of Mr. Wills' frontispiece being the reason.

Mr. Wills has never been permitted to fight a white man in Manhattan proper since the Walker law went into effect. On occasion they have tossed him a Caucasian pushover within the limits of New Jersey and shudderingly closed their sensitive eyes.

Loophole for Mixed Match.

"Give a man an inch and he will take a mile," is an old saying. Having beaten white men in New Jersey and Long Island City, Wills now wishes to beat Bartley Madden at Madison Square Garden and the New York state athletic commission will be asked to give its sanction to the proceedings. If it does so, it will leave a loophole for a possible Dempsey-Wills match for the heavyweight championship next summer.

That, at least, is the inference taken by those worthies who wish to promote Wills into serious money before the crutch and wheel chair claim him as their own. To them, it is a matter of overcoming an unspoken prejudice in some official minds, which are now sufficiently versatile to see nothing remiss in mixed bouts between bantams, featherweights, lightweights, etc., but become unduly perturbed at the mere mention of promiscuous mixing of heavyweight tints.

Commission Backing Up.

It may have been noted that when Wills has appeared in Manhattan rings, they have been quite careful to see that the co-attraction did not relieve the monotony of the color scheme. Kid Norfolk, Jack Thompson, Bill Tate and other sombre gents always were parties of the second and unfortunate part.

With its fine, sweeping disregard of the future, the state commission has contrived to establish backfiring precedents on other occasions. The Madden-Wills project will give this estimable body a chance to daily with another.

It Happened In Baseball

From the day Artie Nehf began playing in the National league until July 24, 1922, he trimmed the Pittsburgh club 11 straight games. It seemed as if the Pirates would never solve the southpaw curves of the tenor singing hurler, but on August 15, 1922, Nehf failed to hold the whip hand and the Pirates broke away from the hypnotic spell that this lad from Indiana held over them for eight successive years.

Bobby Carruthers was the star hurler for the St. Louis Browns back in the eighties. In the world series of 1887, Detroit vs. Browns, Carruthers pitched eight of the 15 games which comprised that famous series, which gives "Parisian Bob" the record for pitching the most games in a world series. Carruthers won four games and played out-field in almost every game of the 15 in addition to the ones he hurled.

Klobedanz, a southpaw hurler with the Boston Nationals in 1898, struck out the great Larry Lajoie four times in four times up. Monster Lajoie took a healthy swing at every one of the 12 strikes called. Klobedanz and Lajoie, two years before, were the battery for the Fall River team of the New England league and formed one of the hardest hitting batteries in baseball, for both were in the .300 class in major league baseball and as minor leaguers they were in the .400 class. This former acquaintance may have helped Klobedanz to get Larry and probably he knew his stuff.

Frank ("Red") Donahue, in his day, was classed as a fine hurler of the type of Jim Bagby, Sam Jones or Lee Meadows, but "Red" was never sensational either on or off the diamond. Donahue played with the Philadelphia Nationals and the Cleveland and Detroit teams of the American league from 1898 until 1911. During that period he opposed "Rube" Waddell 20 times and the sensational southpaw never gained a decision on the red thatched right-hander. "Red" had something on the erratic one that "Rube" couldn't shake off.

"Rube" Waddell, in 1900, pitched part of that season for Milwaukee, then in the American league. In a doubleheader, Chicago vs. Milwaukee the big left-hander walked up to Manager Hugh Duffy and requested that he might pitch the second game.

"You have just pitched 17 innings," "That's nuthin'," said Waddell, "I'm only just got started. I'm only warmed up."

Duffy told him to go to it, for the "Rube" had won the 17-inning contest, 3 to 2. Waddell twirled the ball in the second contest as he never twirled it before and won his game, 1 to 0. One hit was all the White Sox made off his delivery. The only thing that marred the record was that darkness put a stop to the game at the end of the fifth inning. "Rube" was wild from disapointment, as he wanted to finish the battle; he wanted the record and the honor of pitching the most innings in major league ball in one afternoon.

RED WING, Minn.—Herman Hackenschmidt of Chicago was defeated, two falls out of three, in a wrestling match here last night by Matt Dashler of this city. The men weighed about 200 pounds each.

Milford's Tossers Ready for Season

MILFORD, Neb., Dec. 20.—Milford high school's basketball slate has been completed or the coming season. With three letter men available, the team gives promise of being one of the best to represent the local school in several seasons. The men showing to best advantage are: Trimble, Gausman, S. Scott, P. Scott, Stahn, Anderson, Moyer, Boshart and Welch. The seniors were winners of the recent inter-class tournament.

CUE CROWN STAYS ON HOPPE'S BROW

Balk-Line Billiard Champion Victorious Over Cochran, 1,500 to 1,161.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Willie Hoppe again has gone through the familiar process of being acclaimed a world's champion. Tied by Walter Cochran, the Hollywood, Cal., youth, in the recent New York international tournament, Hoppe emerged victorious, 1,500 to 1,161, last night after a three nights' play-off for the title. Hoppe, still the master billiardist and match game strategist, lost the final block to the young coast player by 225 points, but came through easily by virtue of a long lead he had built up against just such an emergency by taking the opening night's block, 500 to 203, and the second installment, 500 to 233.

Cochran seemed to suffer from a bad cold throughout the contest, but suddenly, when Hoppe slipped last night, found his stroke and touch, and narrowed the margin of defeat by an exhibition of sound billiard playing.

Four hours were required for last night's play, a total of 1,225 points being scored in sixteen innings.

Hoppe Had Sudden Slump.

Hoppe started as if he would make a runaway match of it, running 206 in the third inning and 141 in the fifth, but his cue suddenly lost its magic and for the last twelve turns at the table he was able to show a count of only 28 in his best inning, although all during that time he was within 100 points of victory.

Hoppe's high run for the match was 211, made Tuesday night. Cochran's best was 107, made last night. Hoppe's grand average was 44 5-34, well under his record, and Cochran's was 34 5-43.

Under the tournament rules Cochran will be regarded as having finished second, and the champion must entertain a challenge from him within three months.

The challenge contest, to be held in Bostin or Detroit next month, probably will be under the same conditions as here—1,500 points in three nights of play.

The scores by innings, with high runs and grand averages, follow:

Cochran—5 2 33 74, 89 50 2 34 0 2 0 0 4 69 9 20 13 30 1 45 51 40 22 92 107 0 81 79 44 0 66 0 0 97—1,161.

Hoppe—150 34 46 211 64 2 2 1 1 9 0 2 52 162 3 207 106 0 206 4 114 4 0 28 4 0 28 0 10 0 7 1 16—1,500.

High runs—Hoppe, 211; Cochran, 107.

Sixty On Basket Squad At Ashland

ASHLAND, Neb., Dec. 20.—Sixty men are out every day in preparation for the Ashland high school basketball season. The class tournament, held last week, brought out a wealth of material and keen competition is being shown for places on the first team. The schedule this year is the hardest that Ashland has faced since the school began playing basketball four years ago.

Pat Hoffman captains the team this year and plays center. Other letter men are Van Wie, forward; Ekberg and Endicott, guards. The season opens Friday, December 21, when Waterloo plays here.

HUSKERS HOOK UP WITH OREGON AGS

Nebraska Schedules the Dick Rutherford Team to Play Here Next Season.

Agreement With Coast Eleven Rounds Out Roster Of Nebraska Games.

NEBRASKA'S 1924 SCHEDULE.

Oct. 4—Illinois at Lincoln.
Oct. 11.—Oklahoma at Norman.
Oct. 18—Colgate at Lincoln.
Oct. 25—Kansas at Lawrence.
Nov. 1—Missouri at Lincoln.
Nov. 15—Notre Dame at Notre Dame.
Nov. 22—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
Nov. 27 (Thanksgiving)—Oregon Aggies at Lincoln.

Scheduling of a Nebraska-Oregon Aggie game for Thanksgiving day in Lincoln, announced Wednesday night by the Nebraska management, rounds out the Cornhusker football program for the season of 1924. Inability of University of Southern California to accept Nebraska's invitation to date the Trojans to perform in Lincoln next fall paved the way to the termination of negotiations with the Oregon Farmers. The wires between Lincoln and Corvallis were kept busy all day Wednesday in exchanging telegrams, with the result that the O. A. C. authorities formally came through with acceptance of Nebraska's proposition.

The Aggies, coached by Dick Rutherford, captain of Nebraska's all-victorious team of 1915, should prove to be a high class attraction for the Turkey date in the Cornhusker camp. The Huskers of 1924 will meet Missouri Nov. 1, after which there will be no home game in Lincoln until the conflict with the Rutherford aggregation.

Completes Nebraska's Book.

Agreement to take on the Oregon eleven rounds out one of the most formidable schedules ever arranged for a Cornhusker eleven. The list includes Illinois, a leader in the "Big Ten" conference; Colgate, a top class team in the east; Notre Dame, strongest non-conference aggregation in the middlewest; Oregon Agricultural college, member of the Pacific Coast conference, and Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Kansas Aggies, rivals of Nebraska in the Missouri Valley conference. It is a schedule which will command the sturdiest fighting qualities of the Cornhuskers from the first game of the season to the last.

Failure of the Nebraska-U. S. C. negotiations to materialize into a definite agreement to compete in 1924 was a disappointment to the Cornhusker authorities, yet the combat with the Oregon Ags will appeal to Nebraska followers as an excellent substitute. Meantime, the Los Angeles institution has assured Nebraska of its desire to inaugurate gridiron relations with the Cornhuskers beginning in 1925 and a two-year compact providing for home-and-home games in Los Angeles and Lincoln, probably will result from the U. S. C. suggestion. Cornhusker authorities will continue to dicker with the Trojans on the basis of a two-year agreement.

U. S. C. Still Seeks Game.

(Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Failing in their efforts to arrange an exchange of football games with the University of Nebraska in 1924 and 1925, the University of Southern California athletic department will try, it is said, to enter into negotiations with another eastern eleven for a game in November 1924. It is reported that Elmer Henderson, U. S. C. coach, is going east after January 1 to schedule a game with Pennsylvania State, Dartmouth, Syracuse, West Virginia or Colgate. All of them are said to be available.

MADDEN IN LINE FOR WILLS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 Bartley Madden, New York heavyweight, may fight Harry Wills, New Orleans negro, before he considers a $10,000 offer to box Luis Angel Firpo in Buenos Aires next February. It is understood negotiations are under way to match Madden and Wills for a fight at Madison Square Garden in January.

Last Night's Fights.

At Springfield, Ohio—Jack Warner, Cincinnati, won from Bill Thorpe, Dayton, 12 rounds.

At Montreal—Leo (Kid) Roy, won from Tommy Noble in 10 rounds.

At Baltimore—Joe Dundee beat Ted Merchant in 12 rounds.

At Brooklyn—Willie Harmon, New York, knocked out Johnny Summers, Brooklyn, fourth round.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.

Stock prices resumed their movement to higher ground in today's market, with buying of several issues stimulated by the prospects of special dividend distributions before the first of the year. Reports of early action on the Mellon tax plan also were regarded as a constructive factor. Sales approximated 900,000 shares.

Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's stock market. A better demand was noted for the western carriers, Illinois Central rising 1¼ and a number of others improving fractionally. Davison Chemical and Famous Players also opened about a point higher. Initial changes among the standard industrials were small and generally unimportant.

The market developed increased strength as the trading progressed. Computing, Tabulating & Recording rising 2½ and Mer Department Stores, 1¼ each to new high levels for the year. Gains of 1 to 2 points also were recorded by Baldwin Cuba Cane Sugar preferred, Corn Products, General Electric, Mack Truck, Chandler, Invincible Oil, Erie common, Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate and American Agricultural Chemical preferred United Cigar Stores dropped 6 points and Otis Elevator 2. Foreign exchanges were again reactionary, French francs establishing a new low at 5.15 cents.

Prospects of special dividend distribution by several more companies before the first of the year, combined with reports of heavy retail holiday buying, stimulated the demands for stocks during the morning session. The forward movement embraced a wide list with gains of 1 to 2 points quite common before noon. Call money opened at 4½% per cent.

Trading contracted in the early afternoon and prices of the recognized leaders showed only trifling variation from the noon levels. Some of the coppers yielded fractionally on fears of a disruption of the copper export association and Davison Chemical was weak. Various minor issues, however, continued to rise. "Soo" preferred making up 10 points of yesterday's drop or 15 points and Austin Nichols and Kelsey Wheel were also 3 points higher.

The closing was irregular. A number of the active issues recorded their best prices in the final hour under the impetus of heavy short covering. United Cigar Stores made up its early loss of 6 points and Schulte Stores, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies and Central Leather preferred advanced 2½ to 3 points.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 20.

Wheat underwent a moderate setback in price today soon after the opening. Demand was of only a scattered sort and there was a division of opinion as to how the government crop report should be construed. Besides, continued favorable weather for the harvest in Argentina was reported. The opening, which ranged from ¼c off to a shade advance, May, $1.05⅝ to $1.05¾, and July, $1.05¾ was followed by a general decline.

In the later dealings, numerous small lot orders to sell December made that month drop. May and July, however, received some support. The close was unsettled, ¼@1⅛c net lower, May $1.03⅛@¼ and December $1.06¼@1.06⅛.

An increase of commission house offerings weakened the corn market. After opening unchanged to ⅛@ higher, May, 74c, prices showed slight losses all around.

Sympathy with wheat weakness more than offset a decrease in the volume of corn receipts here. Corn closed heavy ⅛@½c net lower, May 73½@73⅝c.

Oats were easier with corn, starting unchanged to ⅛c up, May, 45⅝c to 45⅝c, but later sagged.

Lower quotations on hogs pulled down provisions.

Orders Chimneys Rebuilt On Five New Residences

Commissioner Cowgill announced Thursday morning that the city building inspector and fire inspector had found five chimneys in new homes being built lacking in fire proof flue linings as demanded by the city ordinance and that unless the chimneys were rebuilt at once, he would cancel the building permits for the houses.

The builder was in consultation with the city engineers, the commissioner and the city attorney and fire chief Wednesday and made strenuous objections to the order to tear down and rebuild the chimneys but the officials refused to retract on their demands and gave him until Monday to make up his mind. If he refuses to rebuild the building permits will be revoked and he can not legally complete construction.

Mr. Cowgill stated that the flues were fire place flues which the contractor thought were excluded from the ruling which demands flue linings for fire protection. Mr. Cowgill likewise stated that they had found that one tire lining had been placed in the top of the chimney so that from above it looked as though the chimneys were properly protected, but that investigation showed that below the one tile the open brick work was exposed. The building ordinance was amended some months ago to include the provision that all chimneys must be lined with fire proof tile and this is said to be the common ruling in every city which has a building or a fire protection code.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR A MEMORIAL

City Planning Committee and Spanish War Vets For Meeting.

Pursuant to call of A. R. Talobt, chairman of the sub-committee from the Chamber of Commerce on Spanish War Memorial, the following named citizens of Lincoln met at noon luncheon in the dining room at the chamber; A. R. Talbot presiding, H. B. Alexander, J. E. Miller, E. L. Cline, Dr. J. S. Welch and G. L. Towne of the city plans subdivision of the chamber of commerce; and F. D. Eager, J. H. North, P. J. Cosgrave, H. P. Rankin, C. P. Hensel and O. W. Meier from William Lewis Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

Mr. Talbot stated the purpose of the meeting of the sub-committee with the representatives from the Spanish war veteran camp, to be the formulation of plans for an appropriate memorial to commemorate the principles of the Spanish-American war to be erected in the mall north of N street near the O street entrance of Antelope park, the location for the memorial having been granted by the city council; and Mr. Talbot asked Mr. Meier to act as secretary.

The discussion was informal, all approved the site that has been selected for the monument in the mall, and Mr. Alexander said that the location was ideal, that in his opinion the proper back-ground should be made by planting suitable shrubbery back of the green fence at the entrance to give proper setting for the memorial, and he suggested that the monument portray Columbia in defnse of the oppressed. Mr. Miller suggested that probably 30 or 40 thousand dollars could be raised by subscription in Lincoln and Lancaster county, and that appropriate plans should be outlined, and he indicated that he would be willing to undertake the raising of the required funds through the Chamber of Commerce, but that plans should be drafted by a competent authority first. Mr. Alexander concurred in the views expressed by Mr. Miller, and it was agreed by all that Mr. Talbot should act as chairman of the committee on plans for the memorial, the other members of this committee to be Mr. Alexander, Mr. Cline, Mr. Eager, Mr. North and Mr. Meier, secretary. It was also agreed that Mr. Miller be chairman of the committee to raise the funds, the other members of this committee to be selected.

Mr. Talbot is to report to the chamber of commerce, and Mr. Eager to report to William Lewis Camp, U. S. W. V.

City Employe to Appear In Court On Parking Charge

A nice question of courtesy between municipal departments confronted the city officials Thursday when it was learned that a city employe had left a municipal truck used by the engineer's office standing in front of the city hall for more than two hours.

The police tagged the car and arrested the driver. He is scheduled to appear in police court Friday morning. It is understood that the police judge has ruled that all fines shall be levied against the true owner of a car, in this case the city of Lincoln. Fines go to the school fund. It is evident that if fined the city will have to pay a dollar and costs to the board of education which is admittedly in serious need of funds.

Commissioner Cowgill is ready to defend his employe. The truck was a service truck for the survey crew of the engineer's office and was being held in readiness to give service on some new paving at a moment's notice. The parking space provided for city cars near the rear of the city hall, was according to Mr. Cowgill, filled to overflowing with privately owned cars of city officials and others leaving no room or the truck, which had to be kept ready for the crew.

Mr. Cowgill likewise insists that if the city is fined that money must come from the judgment fund which is under the control of the mayor as is the police department.

Annual Fee Due From Nurses—A business session of the state nurse examining board was held Thursday at the capitol. The board is authorized under the new state law to collect $1 a year, beginning January 1, 1924, as renewal fee from each registered nurse in Nebraska. About 1,800 licenses have been issued since the state began to supervise and regulate nursing, ten years ago, but how many of these are now in practice is not known. Only twenty-five have applied so far for renewal permits. Members of the board say that it will be illegal for any registered nurse to practice as such, after January 1, until the fee has been paid. They may be fined for doing so, under the new act. Heretofore, registered nurses have had to pay only the original license fee, but as decreed by the last legislature they must contribute $1 a year apiece. The law does not apply to practical nurses.

OBJECTIONS TO SALE OF HOTELS

The sale is objected to on the grounds that such a sale would not bring in more than $296,000 cash, as shown on the face of the offer. This would not begin to give any fair returns to either the creditors or the stockholders, it is said. It is further stated that according to the offer, Eppley would gain a decided preference over the other creditors as his claims would be taken care of to the full extent and immediately while the other creditors would be forced to wait and take a percentage.

Contrary to Order.

It is further claimed that the sale would be contrary to the order of the circuit court of appeals and would allow the Eppley claims which the court has declared are not valid. In this way Eppley would gain his point in spite of the fact that he was defeated in the courts, it is claimed.

The fact that Eppley has collected a great amount of rent from the various properties which has been turned over to the trustee is another basis for objection. The price offered by Eppley is also objected to as being far too low. It is claimed that Eppley has offered only $80,000 for the Scottsbluff hotel, which the objectors claim cost $200,000. Similar unfair prices are also declared to have been offered in the case of several other hotels.

It is charged by those entering objections that "the persons chiefly interested in pushing the acceptance of the offer are in fact debtors to the estate on bonds for the use of the properties, who desire to obtain release from the liabilities."

Miller's Objections.

Rome Miller of Omaha objects to the sale on the grounds that the deal would transfer the title of all the stock of the Interstate Hotel company to Eppley notwithstanding the fact that he (Miller) claims to be owner of the stock under a contract with the bankrupt companies. These objections are made in the face of the fact that litigation is now pending in the courts in regard to the title.

Miller stated in the objecting document that he "would not waive his rights and claims to these properties, regardless of the acts of the bankruptcy court."

"Should it be determined by the court that he (Miller) is not the owner of the Fontenelle stock,

"DESTINY'S CHILD"

By HAZEL DEYÓ BATCHELOR

Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Company

Courtney Herrington has a queer influence over Lorry Greenville, and when Tom Ransome, the man she has promised to marry, proves unworthy, Lorry yields to Herringtons' demand that she marry him. The marriage, however, is not a success. Lorry cannot get over her fear of her husband—his love for her is so intense that it terrifies her—and she still yearns over Tom. When Coralie Wells announces her engagement and asks Lorry to be her matron of honor, Lorrey is made still more miserable by the sight of Coralie's happiness.

CHAPTER XX.

Depression.

"Of course I'm happy!" Lorry's tone was almost defiant. "Why shouldn't I be? Haven't I everything to make me happy?"

"Don't misunderstand me, dear," Coralie spoke very gently, "but I just wondered. You made up your mind about Courtney so soon after you decided not to marry Tom, and none of us knew the reason why the wedding was called off."

"I think you could have guessed the reason. You didn't, any of you, approve of Tom. You must have decided that it was some delinquency of his." Lorry's remark was so bitter that Coralie drew back, shocked.

"Lorry, don't tell me that you still think of Tom; that you're sorry you didn't marry him."

"And if I am?"

"Oh, Lorry, Lorry darling, you make me afraid for you!"

Instantly Lorry threw back her head and laughed.

"Don't be a goose, Coralie. How easy you are to string along. Where's your sense of humor? I swear you've lost it entirely since you've become engaged to Jim."

Coralie dimpled and drew a long breath of relief.

"Well, I was frightened. For a moment you spoke as if you were in earnest."

Lorry forced another gay laugh, was almost her old self. She talked animatedly, she laughed often. Spots of red color rose in her cheeks under the rouge and here eyes were very bright, as bright as Coralie's own, although it was the brightness of forced excitement rather than actual enthusiasm.

The minute Coralie left, however, the reaction set in. That brief period of forced animation had seemly exhausted all Lorry's power, and she drooped visibly. Her bright hair ruffled about her face looked as though it had drawn all the vitality of the girl's body up into the shining waves and as she sank back on her couch she realized that it was growing late.

The days since her return to the city had seemed like years, and the hours of each day had been only a respite, a time of waiting for Courtney to come home.

It did not matter what she did, nor where she was, just as soon as it was late afternoon she began to feel the pull of Courtney's compelling personality drawing her back to the apartment. The thing had begun to get on her nerves; it was sapping her strength, and yet whenever she was with her husband she managed to hide her dread from him. She was still making an effort to play the game.

Now as she lay on the couch with her head buried in the bright chintz pillows, her thoughts wandered to Tom. How different everything would be if she were married to him. How different would be her feelings as she waited for him to come home to dinner. Even with the knowledge that he was unworthy, that she could not trust him, she could not possibly feel as she did now. There would be no dread of him. There had never been any oppressiveness about Tom's love, no demand, no fiery intensity such as there was about Courtney's. And yet there were times when she fought this feeling in herself, blaming herself, hating herself for her attitude. Why should she blame Courtney or his love of her? It was just a silly notion on her part. She ought to bring her sense of humor to bear on the situation. Courtney was fine, he was splendid, she trusted him, she even admired him. If he had been an acquaintance she would have liked him, but she had never know him save as a lover and husband, and the intensity of his love for her prevented her from judging him dispassionately as she would have any other man.

ELKS ASSISTANTS TO SANTA CLAUS

Make Preparations For Entertainment and Gift Distribution Christmas.

Santa Claus is coming to Lincoln again this year and is to hold court at the Auditorium Christmas morning. Word to this effect has been received by his lieutenants, nearly a thousand strong, members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and they have been for some time busily engaged in preparing for the big event.

According to the program outlined, Santa, assisted by the Elks, is to hold a great reception for the little folks of Lincoln, who will for a time be engaged in community singing, which will be followed by a high class entertainment of an hour's duration and of a character especially appealing to children. Then the curtains will be drawn aside and the tall brilliantly lighted and decorated Christmas tree will be revealed with Santa beside it.

The children will be marched in orderly manner past their patron saint, who will see that each receives a bag containing treats and a present which he or she will apreciate. The happy recipients will then be marched out the north door of the auditorium.

The Elks have acted as the representatves of Santa Claus for the worthy children of Lincoln for so many years that they have the work thoroughly systematized and the handle the hundreds of impatient little folks without any friction or difficulty whatever. They never had an accident.

The doors of the auditorium will be opened at 9 o'clock, the entertainment will begin at 9 and the gift distribution at 10. This usually occupies an hour or a little more.

FORM SYNDICATE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Formation of a syndicate of London banking houses with a capital of 5,000,000 pounds to which control of the Chester concessions in Turkey eventually might pass, was announced yesterday by P. G. Knowles, counsel for the Ottoman-American development company, which held the concessions.

VELARDE CHOSEN.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 20.—Dr Hernanden Velarde, former Peruvian minister to Argentina, has been appointed ambassador at Washington.
